AMERICAN BLUEJACKETS ARE ORDERED INTO MEXICO TO PROTECT AMERICANS

SUCCESS STILL CROWNS EFFORTS OF GIGANTIC DRIVE OF GERMANS

Russians Abandoning Positions and Retreating Before Greatest Offensive Movement Yet Launched By Teutonic Allies—Italians Sweep Forward—British Warship Aground in Dardanelles and British Submarine Sinks Three Turk Transports With Troops—Another War Loan of $1,750,000,000 to Be Asked in House of Commons

By Associated Press.

Berlin, June 17.—The Russians have abandoned their positions to the north of Sieniawa, on the San river in Galicia, and have retreated toward Tarnograd, in Russian-Poland, according to the official statement given out today by the German army headquarters' staff.

Berlin, June 17.—It was announced semi-officially in Berlin today that the Austro-German forces along a 682-mile front in Poland, Galicia and Bukowina had begun a general attack in a battle expected to be decisive, and that big results were expected.

London, June 17.—Official Italian advices claim advantages all along the front, particularly in the Adige valley which leads to Trent. On the Isonzo front, where centers the battle for possession of Trieste, Italian successes also are claimed.

London, June 17.—The latest news from the eastern front does not indicate that anything has occurred thus far to upset the plans of General von Mackensen, who has fixed July 1 for the arrival of an Austro-German army in Lemberg, the Galician capital.

General von Mackensen's army, driving due eastward across the San to the north of Przemyśl, is already half way from the river to Lemberg. On the Dniester the Teutonic forces have suffered several severe repulses but their check thus far has not been of sufficient moment to offset Russian losses.

If General von Mackensen keeps to his schedule it is possible the Russians will be compelled to withdraw from the Dniester. They may also be forced to retreat on the wide front in central Poland.

The campaign against the Russians, on which the Germans are now concentrating their offensive efforts, is developing another phase in a violent attack in Russian-Poland. At the same time the Germans are pushing back Russians in the Baltic provinces and, with the help of the Austrians, in Galicia.

A Petrograd official statement contains the admission that the Germans have occupied additional villages near Shavli in the Baltic region, but states that the Russians regained lost ground near Przemyśl. It is in the vicinity of Przemyśl, which lies to the north of Warsaw, that the Germans apparently are making their most determined effort on the Polish front, although the fortress of Ossowetz is again being attacked.

London, June 17.—The Star has received a telegram from Athens saying that news was received there that a British submarine torpedoed and sunk three Turkish transports loaded with troops, in the Dardanelles at Nagara.

The greater part of the troops and crews is said to have perished.

London, June 17.—Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons this afternoon that another loan bill would be introduced Monday.

It has been suggested that the amount of the loan would be $1,750,000,000.

London, June 17.—Turkish and British reports today both claim successes at the Dardanelles. Constantinople also says that a British warship of the Agamemnon type is ashore near the entrance to the Dardanelles, and is partly submerged.

ger said he helped to launch a life-boat full of women and children unassisted by the crew, but the boat leaked so badly that it sank a few minutes after touching the water.

D. A. Thomas, known as the British coal king, who was on the Lusitania, was of the opinion that some members of the crew did not obey the captain's orders to attend first to the rescue of women and children, but attempted to save themselves first.

The evidence showed Staff Captain countermanded the orders Captain Turner had given previously to get the women and children into the boats. A number of witnesses testified that they got into the boats and had to leave them later on orders from Captain Anderson, who was heard shouting: "The ship is safe."

AWFUL CRIME IN CINCINNATI

By Associated Press.

Cincinnati, June 17.—After reporting to the police here that here eleven-year-old daughter Elizabeth had been missing since noon yesterday, Mrs. Mary Nolte today found the child's body lying in the rear yard of her home in Central Avenue. The body was without clothing and wrapped in a sheet.

Police say the child had been assaulted and murdered. The mother said a negro had given the child candy the morning she left home.

The girl's throat had been cut and the body hacked.

A negro was arrested and police believe he knows something about the murder. Police say he was arrested several days ago for disturbing little girls.

RACING SPEED RECORD BROKEN

Chicago, June 17.—The world's record for speed has been smashed at the new two mile board track of Speedway Park. Dario Resta, famous Italian driver in qualifying for the big 500-mile race to be run June 26th, drove the course in one minute and five seconds, an average of 110.1 miles an hour.

This wonderful performance surpasses the best time ever made for the distance by cars having 300 cubic inches of piston displacement. As practically all races on this continent are limited to cars of the 300 inch class, this record establishes the mark at which all drivers must shoot in the future.

MEYER-GERHARD STORY BRANDED A FALSEHOOD

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 17.—At the State Department today a telegram was received from the German Embassy at Cedarhurst, N. Y., signed by the charge d'affaires, making a general denial of the public charges that Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, for whom the State Department obtained a safe conduct back to Germany from the allies, was, in reality, Dr. Alfred Meyer, a high German official secretly in the United States buying supplies. State Department officials will decide later whether to make the telegram public.

Nothing from Count Bernstorff himself has yet been received. A report from New York said the ambassador had communicated with the State Department about the published stories.

President Wilson, it was said at the White House today, had no official knowledge of the reports concerning Dr. Meyer-Gerhard. It was also said that the White House had no information on other reports that letters sent to the allies' embassies here and to the War Department regarding invention of war implements and ammunitions had been tampered with.

None of the allies' embassies have made any complaint to the postoffice department. In allied quarters it was said, the Russian Embassy had suffered most interference, and in six specific instances has found evidence that its mail had been opened on a United States railway mail car. Mail to practically all the embassies from abroad has borne evidence of inspection, but there is no way of determining if it happened in the United States or in Europe.

BRYAN PRAISES WILSON FOR GREAT EXAMPLE SET

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 17.—Asserting that preparedness provokes rather than prevents war and that the upheaval in Europe was the result of the false philosophy that "Might makes Right," former Secretary Bryan today, in the second of his series of three statements on "The Causeless War," submits an argument against military preparations by the United States and praises the course of President Wilson in the international emergency.

"If any nation is without excuse for entering into a mad rivalry with the belligerent nations in preparation for war, it is the United States," says Mr. Bryan.

"We are protected on either side by thousands of miles of ocean and this protection is worth more to us than any number of battleships.

"We have additional protection in the fact known to everyone that we have the men with whom to form an army of defense if we are ever attacked, and it is known also that we would have the money, too.

"Happy for our nation that we have in the White House at this time a president who believes in setting the old world a good example, instead of following the bad example which it sets in the matter."

STATE DEPARTMENT SENDS TROOPS TO GUAYMAS TO QUELL UPRISING

Many Americans in Danger of Annihilation at Hands of Yaqui Indians, and Cruiser Colorado Is Rushing to Mexico Coast to Furnish Relief—Yaquis Declare War on Germany, Mexico and U. S., 'Tis Said.

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 17.—Admiral Howard, commanding the Pacific fleet, was under orders today to proceed immediately to Guaymas, on the west coast of Mexico, with 300 bluejackets and 300 marines and to dispatch this force 20 miles inland, if necessary, to protect Americans menaced by the Yaqui Indians. The Indians have threatened to annihilate all foreigners.

Orders to Admiral Howard to proceed to Guaymas were sent by the Navy Department following a conference between Navy and State Department officials. State Department advices said that the Indians had declared war on Germany, Mexico and the United States.

San Diego, Cal., June 17.—With 300 marines aboard, the flagship Colorado, Admiral Howard commanding, sailed from San Diego at 9:35 a. m. today for the Lower California coast.

Protection of Americans in the Yaqui valley, is the object of the dispatch of troops from this point. Recent advices state that American colonists at Esperanza, some 300 miles south of the border, after standing off one attack by the Indians, are hemmed in and threatened.

The Yaquis have declared their independence and are fighting to recover land taken from them under the administration of Porfirio Diaz.

LUSITANIA'S EQUIPMENT INADEQUATE

By Associated Press.

London, June 17.—When the investigation into the sinking of the Lusitania was resumed in London today Sir Edward Carson expressed his conviction that a second submarine was lying in wait on the port side of the Lusitania.

Captain Turner of the Lusitania was on the stand again today. When asked if the increase in the number of small boats on liners since the time of the Titanic disaster was of any advantage Captain Turner answered that he did not think so.

It was also testified by witnesses that no life belts were available on deck during the voyage. A passen-

PLANS OF THE PEACE LEAGUE ARE OUTLINED

Philadelphia, June 17.—William H. Taft, former president, outlined the plan for the proposed League of Peace which is being discussed in Independence hall today. Mr. Taft was firmly of the opinion that the League of Peace could be formed which would enable nations to avoid war by furnishing a practical means of settling international quarrels or "suspending them until the blinding heat of passion had cooled."

At the conference proposals will be considered for a League of Peace and steps will be taken with a view to obtaining the support of public opinion and of governments. The national provisional committee, which called the conference, includes well known publicists, educators, peace advocates, editors and economists. Mr. Taft was assigned the honor of delivering the keynote speech.

Among those who are participating in the conference's deliberations are President Lowell of Harvard university, Oscar S. Straus, a member of the Hague court; Hamilton Holt of New York and former Judge George Gray of Delaware, also a member of the Hague court.

Mr. Taft said in calling the meeting that all present represented no one but themselves. He continued:

"We are not here to suggest a means of bringing the war to an end; much as that is to be desired and much as we would be willing to do to secure peace, that is not within the project of the present meeting. We hope and pray for peace, and our hopes of its coming in the near future is sufficient to make us think that the present is a good time to discuss and formulate a series of proposals to which the assent of a number of the great powers could be secured."

"We think a League of Peace could be formed which would enable nations to avoid war by furnishing a practical means of settling international quarrels, or suspending them until the blinding heat of passion had cooled. When the world conference is held our country will have its official representatives to speak for us."

"In no war has the direct interest that neutrals have in preventing a war between neighbors been so clearly made known. This interest of neutrals has been so forced upon them that it would require only a slight development and growth in the law of international relations to develop that interest into a right to be consulted before such a war among neighbors can be begun."

"This step we hope to have taken by the formation of a peace league of the great powers, whose primary and fundamental principle shall be that no war can take place between any two members of the league until they have resorted to the machinery that the league proposes to furnish to settle the controversy likely to lead to war."

"If any member refuses to use this machinery, and attacks another member of the league in breach of his league obligations, all members of the league agree to defend the members attacked by force."

UNCLE SAM GETS READY

Washington, June 17.—That the United States is determined to resort to firm measures to protect American life in Mexico is indicated in orders forwarded to Admiral Howard, who is in command of the Pacific fleet, to proceed to Tobari bay, near Guaymas, on the west coast, with 300 marines and 300 bluejackets, and to dispatch this force twenty miles inland, if necessary, to protect an American colony that is menaced by the Yaqui Indians. The American colonists whom the government is determined to protect are said to be in great danger. Admiral Howard, who has started for Tobari bay, is empowered to send the marines and bluejackets to the point of the trouble without further conversation with the officials.

MOVE ON LEMBERG

London, June 17. — Except for the check administered temporarily to the forces of General Von Linsingen at the Dniester, the Austro-Germans appear to be advancing slowly to the eastward toward Lemberg, in Galicia. They are fighting every foot of the way, however, and the Russians are contesting stubbornly. Dispatches from Petrograd indicate that the new Austro-German forces have joined General Von Mackensen's army, which is moving eastward in a long battle front. These forces are at present engaged in battle around Sienawa, Jaroslav and along the right bank of the San. The Russians held the advance for three days, but finally were compelled to retire on the right bank of the Lubawowka and the Wysznia, a tributary of the San.

OHIO BRIEFS

Strode Sees Less Efficiency.
Columbus, June 17.—In the opinion of S. E. Strode, member of the state agriculture commission and chief of the dairy and food division, the public has been shorn of much of its protection from adulterated foods by the work of the last legislature. The assembly cut the appropriation for the dairy and food department for analyzing and detecting adulterated foods from $8,500 to $3,500. It did, however, appropriate $5,000 for this purpose to be used under the direction of the board of health. Though the total appropriation exceeds former allowances to the dairy and food department by $500, Mr. Strode contends that the division of the work can have only one effect, less efficiency.

Suggests Department of Peace.
Columbus, June 17.—Dr. Charles Edward Jefferson of the Broadway tabernacle, New York, who delivered the annual address to the graduates at O. S. U., advocates a department of peace. Why not, he asks, establish a new department of our government "whose special and exclusive business shall be the cultivating and maintaining of international good will? If we have a secretary of war, why not have a secretary of peace? Why should not the skill and art of diplomacy be utilized in keeping on good terms with our neighbors, instead of being reserved for patching up quarrels?"

Drowned in Flood.
Portsmouth, O., June 17.—The sudden rush of high water in the Scioto river claimed its first victim when Homer Stewart, twenty-eight, was swept from the bridge he was guarding into the swirling waters below. His body was immediately carried down stream and was not recovered.

Strikebreakers Wreck Property.
Kent, O., June 17.—Seven carloads of strikebreakers for Chicago were turned back at Sterling and rushed through Kent without stopping, engines being changed a mile west of town. The men terrorized eating-house attendants and wrecked property at several points.

Lands Chief Clerkship.
Columbus, June 17.—H. L. Hastings of Caldwell, Noble county, was appointed to succeed J. H. Tilton of Columbus as chief clerk in the state highway department. Mr. Hastings assumed his new duties immediately after being appointed.

Gallipolis, O., June 17.—Three persons were bitten by dogs here. Seven dogs have been killed.

CARRANZA WILL CARRY ON THE SCRAP

Washington, June 17. — Overtures for peace in Mexico, made by the Villa-Zapata faction, have been declined for the present by General Carranza. It is stated that three such offers have gone unanswered.

The latest offer was transmitted through the medium of the United States without comment. A few days ago the convention assembled in Mexico City, over which Francisco Lagos Chazaro presided, formally presented to the Brazilian minister, as the representative of the American government, for transmission to General Carranza through diplomatic channels, a proposal for a thirty-day armistice, during which arrangements could be made for establishing a provisional government. It was suggested that both sides should maintain a military status quo and that the armistice be extended from time to time while the parleys continued.

The plan included the holding of a popular election, to be supervised by the factions in control of various sections of the country. The proposal was communicated to General Carranza by American Consul Silliman.

On inquiry as to whether there would be any reply, General Carranza is understood merely to have said there would be none.

The communication from the convention government signed by Chazaro was similar to one sent to General Carranza several weeks ago, signed by Roque Gonzalez Garza, then president of the convention government. That, too, was unanswered.

Since last Monday Carranza has had a personal telegram from General Villa urging a conference of their representatives for a discussion of peace terms. It is known here, too, that a delegation from the convention at Mexico City met General Pablo Gonzalez, the Carranza commander, near the capital, and asked for the arrangement of the armistice, and that he demanded in reply the unconditional surrender of the city.

General Carranza's intention for the present is understood to be to press his military campaign vigorously in the hope that on taking Mexico City and driving Villa forces northward, he will be in a position to merit the recognition of the United States.

CUNARD OFFICER IS PUT THROUGH QUIZ

London, June 17.—Alfred A. Booth, chairman of the board of the Cunard Steamship company, was the chief witness called in the government's inquiry into the sinking of the Lusitania. When he was asked by Attorney General Sir Edward Carson why the Lusitania was economizing by using only 19 of her 25 boilers when she was torpedoed, he replied that so far as submarines are concerned there is no difference between 21 knots and 24 knots. On cross-examination by an attorney representing some of the survivors, he was asked if the company had taken steps to prevent the Lusitania from entering the war zone on schedule. He replied that Captain Turner had been given entire discretion. It was brought out that the Lusitania did not have coal enough on board to make the full trip under full speed, but there was coal enough to have worked all the boilers within the danger zone.

LEAVES ALL TO SUFFRAGE

New York, June 17.—The appraisal of the personal estate of Mrs. Frank Leslie, known as the Baroness de Bayus, which has been filed in the surrogate's court, indicates that the bequest to woman suffrage, which was left to Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, will be greater than had been supposed. At the time the will was filed it was estimated that the residuary estate left in the care of Mrs. Catt would amount to about $1,000,000, but the appraisal indicates that it will be at least $1,300,000, and probably more.

Automobile Prices Tumbling

The price of automobiles continues to drop. Almost every week records another substantial drop in the price of "machines" well and favorably known to the motoring public.

And there is a reason, too.

The automobile has passed the experimental state and has passed the "fad" state too. It has become a fixture as a vehicle to be used for business and pleasure and has, by establishing a place for itself in the business and social life of the world, become an article of every day use and fixed demand. There is no doubt that the automobile has come to stay. Motoring is no longer a "craze" but a part of the life of the people, hence automobiles have become a necessity as many other of man's inventions, at first regarded as luxuries, have become.

It is but a repetition of the history of the telephone, the bicycle and hundreds of other inventions which we "cannot do without" now.

Then too, there is no longer any need for the expenditure of enormous sums of money for agencies' commissions and expert salesmen.

The price of many standard machines has fallen off remarkably this season and the end is not yet.

Relieved of the tremendous cost of developing a market the necessity for such a wide margin between cost of production and selling price, disappears and the multitude of automobile manufacturers cannot be expected to keep the selling price higher than that which will furnish to the builder a fair margin of profit.

The N. C. R. Prosecution

The refusal of the United States Supreme Court to assume jurisdiction to review the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals nullifying the conviction of the National Cash Register officials, meets with popular approval in this section of the country.

The officials of the Cash Register Company were indicted, prosecuted and convicted on a charge of violating the anti-trust statutes of the United States. The prosecution claimed that the accused men conducted the business of the company in a manner which was unfair to competitors and therefore in restraint of trade. Following the conviction of the men charged John H. Patterson, the principal defendant, president and controlling genius of the company, and the real directing force of the business methods of the company, rendered splendid and spectacular service to the flood sufferers in nineteen thirteen.

As a result of his unselfish devotion to the cause of the people in the stricken districts a tremendous sentiment in favor of Mr. Patterson grew up. A monster petition asking for his pardon and the pardon of those who were indicted with him, was circulated and almost unanimously signed.

Mr. Patterson and his associates refused to accept pardon and demanded that they be legally declared innocent.

For that reason the findings of the Court of Appeals that they had not been legally convicted was received with joy throughout the Miami Valley and the refusal of the Supreme Court to review that decision was, is possible, the recipient of even more cordial welcome.

As to the effect of the decision, however, generally speaking, on the anti-trust law expert lawyers express grave misgivings.

No Referendum Elections

For arriving at a determination not to launch a bunch of referendum elections this fall the state organization of the Democratic party is entitled to the thanks of the people of Ohio.

While that conclusion may have been reached as a result of a desire to promote their own interests and the good of the party whose trustees they are, for the time at least, the committeemen and party leaders who foregathered at Columbus last week, have rendered a very appreciable service to the voters of the state who are burdened now almost past the point of endurance by elections and petitions.

With an army of petition circulators tramping around over each section of the state seeking signers to a proposal to submit this, that, and the other, law to a popular vote added to that other army of local candidates and the confusion incident to the now certain battle on state wide prohibition, the annoyance which would result to the people of the state may better be left to the imagination than to be actually experienced.

Then too, the present state administration is entitled to have its laws tested by actual trial. If the laws are good the administration should receive its full measure of credit and if unwise it should bear all the blame without the softening effect which an alibi of interference with their operation would provide.

The developments of the last week on this very referendum proposal indicates that the right which the people took unto themselves when the constitution was last amended is not likely to be resorted to as frequently as some of the "I and R" opponents claimed it would.

Which, by the way, now that we have the "I and R" in Ohio is another fortunate condition.

Poetry For Today

WHATEVER IS—IS BEST.

I know as my life grows older,
And mine eyes have clearer sight
That under each rank wrong, somewhere

There lies the root of Right;
That each sorrow has a purpose,
By the sorrowing oft unguessed,
But as sure as the sun brings morning,
Whatever is—is best.

I know that each sinful action,
As sure as the night brings shade,
Is somewhere, sometime punished,
Tho' the hour be long delayed.
I know that the soul is aided
Sometimes by the heart's unrest,
And to grow means often to suffer—
But whatever is—is best.

I know there are no errors,
In the great Eternal plan,
And all things work together
For the final good of man,
And I know as my soul speeds onward,
In its grand Eternal quest,
I shall say as I look back earthward,
Whatever is—is best.

THE GERRYMANDER.

Gilbert Stuart's Cartoon Made the Political Trick Notorious.

Gilbert Stuart, who is best remembered for his portraits of Washington, was also a cartoonist, and it was he, according to James Melvin Lee, in Cartoons Magazine, who designed the famous Gerry-mander cartoon.

In 1811, writes Mr. Lee, the struggle between the Democrats and the Federalists for the control of Massachusetts was extremely bitter. The Democrats had elected Elbridge Gerry governor and had carried both houses of the legislature. To retain this supremacy they remapped the senatorial districts and divided the power of their political adversaries by paying no attention to county boundaries. In Essex county the relation of the district to the town was most absurd, and a map of the county thus laid out hung in the office of the Massachusetts Sentinel.

One day as Stuart gazed at the map he remarked that the towns as they had been assembled looked like some monstrous animal. A few touches of his pencil added the wings and claws, and he christened the creature a salamander. At the suggestion of Editor Russell, the name was changed to Gerry-mander. The cartoon thereafter frequently appeared in a "broadside," while the term became one of reproach.

It looks now as though that world court would need a disappearing forum, flanked by the biggest guns on earth.

Our Own Popular Songs.

A working girl who sought a job when business was real slack
Tried exercising horses at the old Latonia track
She liked the work, and she was always certain of her pay,
For her employer was a sport who paid her by the day.

Said he, "You're an apprentice, but I'll let you have a mount,
And you can ride Star Shooter, he's a colt of some account.
He's entered in a race next week, and he'll win sure as fate,
But you must cut out beer and train so you can make the weight."

The great day came, and when the nags paraded to the post
The girl had made the weight, but she was feeling like a ghost.
The barrier went up and then Star Shooter took the lead.

He ran like he was scared to death and showed a world of speed.
He ran so fast that he was soon in front by a half mile.

And when they hit the stretch the girl looked back with a glad smile.
The great crowd yelled: "Come on, you Star! Come on! The rest are jokes!"

And then the girl remembered that she must face all them folks.
She felt round for her powder rag and powdered up her nose.

And gazed into her mirror as she sat in sweet repose.
And, as she primped, the other horses galloped up and passed.

And, when she'd finished dolling up, poor Star was running last.
Star's owner said: "You're fired, you dub. To win you didn't try!"

And though big lumps were in her throat, the brave girl did reply:
Chorus: "I may be riding horses, but I'm human just the same!"

And just because your old nag lost, why should I take the blame?

And no guy ain't no gent, though he wears diamonds on his clothes,
Who'd fire a working girl because she powdered up her nose."

First Straw Hats.

The first hat of straw to be worn in the United States appeared in 1800. Straw had been used before to thatch houses, but not the heads of civilized citizens. It made comfortable bedding for cattle and was stuffed in sacks to increase the softness of the pine boards used by men and women to sleep on. But straw for the head? Never! It might do for the tropical savages, but not for the inhabitants of the great zone in which the progressive nations lived.

Previous to 1800 men had worn felt and cloth hats. And it was not till the time of Elizabeth that men began to wear hats at all, in distinction from caps and bonnets. The blossoming of literature in the Elizabethan period was contemporary with the building of brims on head coverings and their transmigration into hats.—Philadelphia Ledger.

FAIRGROUNDS ARE THROGGED DURING THE MATINEE RACES

Racing Is Keen and Crowds Enjoy Themselves Thoroughly Y. M. C. A.'s Elaborate Preparations Meet With Crowning Success.

With a clear, pleasant day, and a big warm sun beating down on the fairground track the elements agreeably welcomed the opening of the matinee racing season in Washington C. H. Thursday.

Early in the morning the people began to arrive from various parts of the county and from neighboring cities, all eager to see the big races which had been so widely and well advertised. By noon the city was crowded with visitors.

The fact that the event was being held for the sole benefit of the Y. M. C. A. and at the same time under the direction of prominent local horsemen, drew many.

The Y. M. C. A. Boosters, who have been making automobile trips to neighboring cities, spreading the glad tidings and extending invitations, for the last week or more, were up and on the job early Thursday getting everything in readiness for the big event. The grounds and the refreshment booths, all under the control of the Y. M. C. A. were put in attractive order for the afternoon performances.

A huge auto truck, carrying four or five civil war veterans comprising a drum corps, paraded through the streets Thursday morning, a large banner on the side of the vehicle announcing the races.

As early as 11:30 a. m. the Y. M. C. A. string of busses and automobiles took their stations on Court street and began hauling the spectators to the ground. The autos and busses were donated to the Y. M. C. A. for the day and the proceeds of fare was a clear profit to the institution.

People began pouring into the grounds early and the big amphitheatre was well filled long before the racing commenced. A flutter of excitement swept over the throng as the favorites began appearing on the track, before the races officially began, for work out.

It was after 1 o'clock when the gong rang for the official start and the races were on.

Over 1,000 people are in attendance. The races are closely contested and the events well filled. There remains on the program the 2:20 trot, the green pace and the green trot.

Officers are: Judges, Dr. L. P. Howell and Chas. Mark; Starter, Frank Woodland; Clerk of Course, W. B. Rogers; Timers, Morgan Baker and Wm. Worthington; Marshal, Rankin Paul.

2:20 TROT.

The 2:20 trot was won handily in two heats by Hydric, owned by J. R. Trimble, of Freedom, Pa., and driven by Wert Mallow. Time 2:13 and 2:16. Forest McKinney, owned and driven by Oscar Vallery, won two seconds, and Bonnie Wreath, owned by Gilbert Perrill and driven by Carl Mallow, finished third in both heats.

the woman when she stepped off the train. He missed her but returned to this city at eleven o'clock. He was then stationed near the Mann residence on Broadway, and it was nearly three o'clock when the automobile arrived. The two women, a traveling salesman and a chauffeur were in the machine.

After taking a look at the party Deputy Judy said: "I've a warrant in my pocket, and I guess I'll just take all of you up to the jail and allow Sheriff Jones to pick out the ones he wants." A few minutes later Florence Mann was behind the bars. Belle Mann Greene was arrested later in the morning.

When arraigned before Judge Allen Florence Mann admitted her guilt on a statutory charge, and Belle Mann Greene entered a plea of guilty to failure to provide for her minor child, whereupon they were sentenced as above stated. Both were very much taken aback when they were quietly informed that they could spend a few months in the works.

Florence Mann is said to have admitted that she had been with the man who left his wife and family for her, saying that they had remained in Covington, Ky., for some time, and then went to Indianapolis where their supply of ready cash gave out and she was forced to pawn a diamond ring to get back home. In passing sentence upon her Judge Allen said: "And that fellow who has been with you—for every day he remains a fugitive, his sentence will be increased when he is apprehended."

George Greene, husband of Belle Mann Greene is now serving a workhouse sentence for having contributed to the delinquency of his young brother-in-law.

SMITH TRIES AGAIN TO MAKE GET-AWAY

Ray Smith, fined $100 and costs in the mayor's court Wednesday after pleading guilty to a charge of resisting arrest, made a second attempt to escape from Officer Baughn, while being taken from the court room back to the jail.

The officer was escorting Smith to the county jail without the aid of handcuffs. At the corner of the court house nearest the jail Smith broke and ran. He got no further than the alley, however, when he was brought to a halt by a command from the officer, backed up by a leveled, business-like Colt revolver.

Smith will probably be taken to the workhouse Friday to begin serving out his fine.

RESIGNATIONS TENDERED BY MEMBERS OF COUNTY BOARD

The first members of the Fayette County Board of Education complying with the recent request of the Presidents of rural and village school boards, which asked for the resignations of the entire County Board of Education, are W. W. Wilson and David Long.

The above mentioned members submitted resignations, Thursday, based upon the condition that the resignations become effective at the same time the resignations of the other members take effect. Their resignations were addressed to Supt. Frank M. Allen, clerk of the County Board of Education, and read:

Dear Sir:—

At the meeting of presidents of the rural and village boards of education held on Saturday June 12th, a resolution was adopted, expressing the unanimous sentiment of that body, that the members of the Board of Education of this County School District should resign their offices as such members.

The considerations which prompted the action stated are generally known. As at present constituted the County Board is justly regarded as prejudicial to the schools within their jurisdiction, and an obstacle to the cause of education. We are ready to step aside in obedience to the resolution of the body which elected us, provided the other members of the County Board forthwith present their resignations.

We therefore hereby resign the office of members of the Board of Education of Fayette County School District, to take effect when resignations of all the other members of the Board named take effect.

Yours respectfully,
W. W. WILSON.

WELL KNOWN CHARACTERS GO TO WORKS

Florence Mann, for whose arrest an affidavit was filed several weeks ago, and her sister, Belle Mann Greene, wife of George Greene who is in the Xenia workhouse, faced Judge Allen Thursday morning and were fined $200 and the costs and given 100 and 90 days, respectively, in the Xenia workhouse. In all probability they will be escorted to the workhouse Friday morning.

Sheriff Jones received a tip, Wednesday evening, that Florence Mann, who was alleged to have left this county a few weeks ago in company with a well known married man of this city, whom the woman says she left in Indianapolis a day or two ago, would arrive in the city during the night, and that she intended leaving the night B. & O. train at Wilmington and motoring to this city. Sheriff Jones deputized Stewart Judy to go to Wilmington and arrest

BUILDING FOUR ROOM ADDITION

The work of building a four room addition to the East End school building, Columbus avenue and Willard street, is now under way. The improvement is expected to cost approximately $5,000, and afford accommodations for 160 additional pupils.

The work of excavating for the basement and building the basement walls is now under way, and within a short time Contractor Swartz will have men engaged in laying the brick. Contractor Williams has the other work.

At the present time the East End building contains four rooms, and there has been an ever increasing demand for more room at the building, with the result that the Board of Education, acting under an emergency measure, and with approval of the State School Commissioner, recently made arrangements for the building of the additional four rooms. The four rooms are to be ready for occupancy when school opens next September.

WELCOME, JUDGES!

The following jingle is from the Cleveland Press and was inspired by the presence in that city this week of Judge Carpenter, of this city, and Judge Newby, of Hillsboro, who are assisting in "clearing the slate" in the Cuyahoga Court of Common Pleas:

Welcome Judges.
Judge Cyrus Newby, Hillsboro,
Is coming, so we hear,
To aid our local judges
Our calendars to clear.

Judge Carpenter is coming too,
To act as Newby's mate;
To bring our suits to trial
And to get them off the slate.

So, weary Mr. Litigant,
Your day in court is nigh,
And Mr. Wait and Mr. Halt
And Mr. Alibi.

And Mr. Absent Witness,
And Reasonable Doubt,
And ancient Mr. We Object,
With motion to strike out.

So, welcome to our city,
You jurists from afar;
Your coming is applauded

LIFE IN A SUBMARINE.

How the Crew Gets Air Fit to Breathe While Under Water.

The commander of a submarine observes what is going on at the surface by means of the periscope, but when that is submerged he sees nothing. And if he moves his vessel while using the periscope he leaves a white flake on the water, which exposes him to the enemy.

However, the periscope is sometimes of a length—about seventeen feet—to give partial safety, as when only the tip shows the boat is unlikely to be damaged by an enemy's fire, although if the periscope chances to be shot away it might cause a fatal leak. Also the submarines can be rammed.

The diving rudders are mounted in pairs, one on either side, fore and aft, with an ordinary vertical rudder at the stern for lateral steering. Each motor set drives a reversible propeller. The accommodation for the navigating officers is in the conning tower, while the quarters of the crew of ten men are in the bow, as is also the galley.

Special arrangements have been made to secure an adequate ventilation of the interiors of the boats. During surface operations the air is drawn in from outside. When traveling submerged the heated atmosphere of the engine and the exhaled air of the crew are drawn off through ventilators which pass it through various filtering, oxygenating and cooling devices, after which it is returned to the interior and is fit to be breathed again.—Exchange.

TELEPATHY.

That, Like Other Mental Operations, Cannot Be Explained.

"Marie Corelli has attributed telepathy to electricity. Is there any scientific truth in the matter, or is it but a theory?" writes a correspondent, and we answer:

Entirely theory. None knows how telepathy originates because nothing is known of the nature of mind—that is, no law of the mind has been discovered. Everything is theory until the law is discovered and then proved beyond all possibility of doubt. Every possibility of doubt or error of any kind, however minute, must be annihilated before anything is published as a law in any scientific book.

The mass of obscure things, such as telepathy, mind reading, action of mind on mind (as in hypnotism), action of mind on matter without physical contact, influence, suggestion, personal magnetism, automatic writing, drawing, painting, reading closed books, causing sound to be heard, conversations in space between invisible personalities, warnings, sending of messages from dying persons to their friends, rescues from danger by mind influences, transmission of drawings and pictures to minds of others by mind processes—all these and perhaps as many as 100 more most remarkable mental things are now occurring constantly in some part of the world.—Edgar Lucien Larkin in New York American.

Education.
Education is not merely the writing of facts on the mind as one writes on a blank slate. It resembles rather the placing of fresh color on canvas on which earlier colors are not dry. The new colors mix with the old. So the living mind mixes new information with what is already in it, and judges the new in the light of the old.

Teeth of the Ancients.

The silence of the classics certainly seems to indicate that the Greeks and Romans suffered very little from their teeth. Words for toothache and for tooth extracting instruments can, indeed, be found in the Greek and Latin dictionaries, but the authors quoted for them are generally late and always uninteresting. We can hardly believe that if toothache had been common in Athens Aristophanes would have made no jokes about it. But a classical scholar may pretty safely be defied to cite a single Greek or Latin passage about it. Even Lucretius, when he gets on the subject of teeth in a passage where a reference to toothache might be expected, merely refers to the jar given to the teeth by very cold water or by biting a stone in one's bread.—London Chronicle.

Reciprocity.

"Dear Harold," with sadness she wrote to her former fiancé, "as you are probably aware, I am to be married to Mr. Anthony the coming month. I shall therefore appreciate it if you will burn all the little notes I sent you, assuring you of reciprocity in regard to those you sent me."

She immediately received this reply: "Dear Dorothy—I shall certainly comply with your request at once. And, incidentally, as your new fiancé holds a few notes of mine I shall deem it a great favor if you will induce him to burn them with the rest."—National Food Magazine.

Tried Her Patience.

"A little padding here and a little more there," she directed.

"Yes'm."

"You don't seem to know much about padding a gown."

"Maybe you had better try an upholsterer," ventured the harassed dressmaker.—London Telegraph.

The following announcement from the Wilmington Journal will be read with the utmost interest by not only Rev. Prosser's parishioners, but also by the large number of friends made during his residence in this city:

A party of unusual interest was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Owens, on East Locust street last evening, in honor of Miss Edith Hildebrand, whose engagement to Rev. Eugene Prosser was announced.

There were present fifteen or sixteen of the young lady's close friends to whom the announcement, though somewhat of a surprise, was no less pleasant news. The house was prettily decorated and Mrs. Owens and her assistants in the entertainment made it an enjoyable evening for the gathering.

Miss Hildebrand, who has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Orbaugh, since childhood, is a lovable little girl. She completed the course in the High School in 912, and was a member of the graduating class at the College last week. She is a good student and has won the admiration and love of her friends both in and out of school. Rev. Prosser is getting a treasurer, in the opinion of those who know the dainty Miss Hildebrand.

Mr. Prosser is the pastor of the Episcopal Church here and at Washington C. H., giving a part of his time at both places. He came to Wilmington a year or more ago and soon won friends, not only in his congregation, but among the people of the town generally. He is a scholarly young man, an able speaker and unquestionably has a bright future before him.

The date of the wedding is announced for July 5. Congratulations will be profuse.

A very enjoyable meeting of the Presbyterian Missionary Society was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ben Davis. Assisting her as hostess were Mesdames Minn, Hadley, Stitt, A. C. Henkle, Jess Blackmore, Frank Mayer, Bryant, Chas. Gage, Wm. Sprenger, T. H. Williams, Kinzer, Gray, Chas. McLean. The topics for this month were "Alaska" and "The Home Base."

After the opening exercises and reports of the different officers, Miss Rose McLean, as leader, called for current events which were given alive with interest by all the ladies present. Mrs. Regina Staubus presented a graphic picture of Alaska's future, showing the riches and business interests of many kinds that will surely be developed there and the millions that will be worked out. Her outlook was full of interest in both mercantile and missionary lines.

After music, Mrs. G. W. Blakely solved the problem, "Medical Missions. Why?" by showing the wondrous accomplishments all over the world by medical missionaries. Her points were fine and startling, bringing realization of what is being done to help the humanity of the world. The information given in such papers is well worth while and of great satisfaction to the hearers.

A social hour and refreshments were enjoyed after the program.

A simple but very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Snider on East Second Street Wednesday morning when their daughter Miss Sylvia, became the wife of Mr. James Thornton, of Washington C. H. The ceremony which was performed by Rev. H. J. Jewett of Trinity M. E. church, the bride's pastor, was witnessed by only members of the immediate families of the young couple. The plans for the coming nuptials had been kept secret from all but the close relatives and news of the wedding will come as a surprise to the friends of the young people.

The Snider home had been prettily decorated for the event with a profusion of ferns, pink snap dragons and Dorothy Perkins roses. Large ferns placed on tall pedestals and an artistic arrangement of white lilies and the lovely pink roses formed a pretty background for the nuptial event. The bride and bridegroom assisted the bride's father and mother in receiving the guests and mingled with them until the hour for the ceremony when with their attendants, Miss Fern Sunkle and Ray Griffith of Washington C. H., who served as maid of honor and best man, they took their places before the officiating minister who read the impressive ring service of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The bride who is a very pretty and very attractive young woman, wore a beautiful and girlish gown of white voile and net and carried a large bouquet of white roses. Miss Sunkle wore a dainty gown of pink and white figured voile with a wide pink girdle and carried an armful of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. The table was artistically decorated in pink and white and a crystal basket filled with Dorothy Perkins and white roses formed the centerpiece. The colors, pink and white were carried out in the four course menu served.

Mr. and Mrs. Thornton left Wednesday morning for Cleveland and from there they will take a lake trip and will visit Buffalo, Niagara Falls and other points of interest. Mrs. Thornton's traveling costume was a becoming tailored suit of battleship gray silk poplin with hat to match.

Upon their return the young couple will make their home temporarily with the bride's parents in this city and Mr. Thornton will be associated with Mr. Snider in the conduct of the bakery of which Mr. Snider is the proprietor.

The bride who is a very popular young woman graduated from the Washington C. H. High school in the class of 1914. Both young people have many friends in this city and in Washington C. H., who extend sincere congratulations and good wishes.

Mrs. George Sunkle of Washington C. H., was the only guest present at the wedding outside of the family circle.—Kenia Republican.

A number of Washington friends received announcement cards, sent out by Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Snider Thursday.

Mrs. Ellis Ramsay gave a beautiful party for her daughter Lucy, Wednesday afternoon at the pretty Ramsay bungalow on Washington avenue.

Fifty-seven children trooped gayly over the lawn and through the flower decked rooms in merry play between the hours of two and five. The special feature of entertainment was a bean contest, in which Doris Garlinger won the prize, a box of chocolates.

The children formed a pretty picture, the young hostess, in dainty white frock and pink sash, leading in all the fun and her cunning little sister Priscilla coming in for a full share of attention.

Mrs. Ramsay served an unusually elaborate two course luncheon, the children seated in a big circle around the living room.

Assisting Mrs. Ramsay in caring for the young guests were Mesdames F. M. Clemmens, W. M. Mitchener, W. R. Dalbey, Misses Mary Ramsey and Virginia Sites.

Sugar Grove W. C. T. U. and the Golden Rule Circle gave a miscellaneous shower and Kensington for Miss Ivah Haines, a bride of next week, Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bruce Pine, on the Rockbridge road.

CORNS LIFT OUT

Dr. Hunt's New Penetration Method
Loosens Them Root and All.
FULL SIZE BOX 10c.

No corn ever went so easily, quickly or surely as by Dr. Hunt's new way—the penetration principle of permanently curing corns. Dr. Hunt has devoted a life of study to this one subject. The final result is this entirely different method—a method by which corns GO forever in two short days. Dr. Hunt's New Corn Cure comes in a simple plaster form. Six plasters in a box. Cut plaster size of corn and apply it. Doesn't "bulk" like clumsy pads. Contains no caustic to smart or cause blood-poisoning. No paring necessary. Wear any shoes. Ease comes the moment you apply this new remedy. You walk in comfort. You forget your feet. In two days corn lifts out. Nothing like Dr. Hunt's New Corn Cure has been known before. It is an entirely new principle. Millions of packages have already been sold. Cures any corn. They must go. And the price is only ten cents a box. Guaranteed or money back. That's very little to pay for foot comfort. Sold by druggists and shoe dealers everywhere. Cure your corns once and for all, this new way. If any difficulty in securing, send 10 cents in stamps for a box, to American Chemical Company, Sidney, Ohio.

DUEL NOW
UNDER WAY

Rome, June 17.—The stand of the Austrians at Goritz is developing the first general engagement of the Italian campaign. The Italian troops, having established themselves on the eastern bank of the Isonzo river at three important points, have found that the Austrians are solidly entrenched on a long line of hills, stretching from Podgora, west of Goritz, to Monte Fortino, in the Isonzo valley, south of the town.

According to an official report from General Cadorna, chief of the Italian general staff, the Austrian defenses are concrete entrenchments, often in several lines, protected by a network of mines and concealed batteries. Against these positions the Italians had to content themselves so far with artillery engagements at long range, meanwhile attempting to outflank the Austrians to the north and attacking rear, the mountains forming a natural defense for Goritz. General Cadorna announces that the artillery duel "is proceeding satisfactorily."

North of Tolmino, where the Italo-Austrian frontier bends to the south in the upper reaches of the Isonzo, there have been fierce infantry engagements. An official statement issued here says that in the Monte Nero region the Alpine troops were victorious in a terrific mountain fight, taking 300 prisoners.

On the Carnic front, the activity of the Austrians makes it seem that they are concentrating large numbers of troops in the region of Monte Groce, with the intention of attempting an invasion of Italy at that point to offset the incursion of the Italians on the Friuli front and compel the Italians to rush reinforcements to the army holding the Carnic passes, and so diminish the strength of the army attacking Goritz.

Between the Val d'Inferno and Malborghetto, on a plateau 7,000 feet above the level of the sea, desperate fighting is going on every day.

The Austrians are offering an effective resistance to the Italian advance here, the Italian objective being the railroad from the interior to Franzensfeste, in Tyrol. It has been learned in the course of artillery engagements to the east of Monfalcone that the Austrians have fortified practically every step of the road from Monfalcone to Trieste.

The Italian fleet which has been concentrated since the opening of hostilities at Taranto, near the entrance to the Adriatic, put to sea under seal order.

Paris, June 17. — Fresh gains by French troops in the sector north of Arras, near Lorette, and in the labyrinthine region of the war office are recorded by the war office.

have launched an attack against the Germans and captured a line of trenches. At the other extremity of the battle line, in the Vosges, French forces have progressed along both banks of the river Fecht, occupying Braun Kopf, taking 340 prisoners. The French have not been able to maintain the gains made west of La Bassee. The city of Rheims was again subjected to a bombardment by the Germans. The war office announces that about 100 bombs in all were dropped on the city and that several fell on the cathedral. Nothing is said regarding the damage. Several civilians were killed at Nancy by bombs dropped by a German aviator.

40 INJURED

London, June 17.—The following official statement regarding the Zeppelin air raid was issued here: "Inquiries show that the casualties in connection with the visit of a Zeppelin to the northeast coast amount to 16 killed and 40 injured."

"It is now possible to state more exactly the casualties resulting from an airship raid on another portion of the northeast coast on the night of June 6. The number of deaths was 24, with 40 injured. The principal fires were in drapery establishments, a lumber yard and a terrace of small houses."

BIG TREE MAIL STATION.

Renowned as the Oldest Postoffice Building in America.

The pioneers of the northwest often made use of huge trees hollowed out by fire or decay. Some of these "tree houses" they occupied as temporary residences. Others they used as shelters for stock or as primitive barns. Only one, however, ever had the distinction of being a United States postoffice. That stump is in Clallam county, in the state of Washington.

In early days the settlers were widely scattered, and it was a long journey over rough trails to the postoffice. Carriers could do no more than leave mail at some central point. The big cedar stump, twelve feet in diameter and reduced to a shell by fire, was a base from which a number of trails radiated.

By common consent it became the postoffice for a wide region. The settlers put on a roof of cedar shakes and nailed boxes around its interior, which they regarded as marked with their names. There was a larger box for the outgoing mail. There were no locks, but the mails were never tampered with.

This primitive postoffice was used for more than a year. It has been carefully preserved and is annually visited by hundreds of interested sightseers. The stump is believed to be over 2,000 years old, which clearly establishes its right to the distinction of being the oldest postoffice building in America.—Youth's Companion.

PEACE DOVE IS GETTING FOOT-HOLD IN TURKEY

Rome, June 17.—It was learned from an official source here that the Italian ambassador to the porte is not allowed to communicate with the Italian foreign office, which has been informed indirectly that the peace movement in certain circles of the Ottoman empire is spreading, as it is believed in Constantinople that the forcing of the Dardanelles by the allies is inevitable. It is reported that Tewfik Pasha is likely to be appointed grand vizier with full powers to negotiate a separate peace.

German noncombatants are leaving Turkey in large numbers. Naval officers and men to the number of 170 who have arrived at Constantinople have been rushed to the Dardanelles. It is said that the Turkish police are already permitting the looting of Christian houses, and the situation in the Turkish capital is desperate.

The almoner of Pope Benedict is providing free meals every day for the children of poor Italian soldiers.

CIVIL SERVICE HEADS RESIGN

Columbus, June 17.—Two of the civil service commissioners, Samuel A. Hoskins, chairman of the commission, and Dr. Charles L. Brown, who are Democrats, are ready, it is said, to step out, leaving only Charles H. Bryson, Bull Moose, still a belligerent. Chairman Hoskins said he intended to notify the governor he would tender his resignation, to take effect in thirty days. He will become a member of a law firm here. Dr. Brown may be asked to remain on the board until replaced by the new commission.

GRANDEES OF SPAIN.

Etiquette of the Hat That Differentiates the Three Ranks.

A grandee of Spain enjoys the privilege, granted him many hundreds of years ago, of remaining "covered" in the presence of his sovereign. This custom dates from the period when, according to the theory then held, the king was "the first among equals."

The ancient formula always at the coronation of the kings of old Spain was: "We, your equals, choose you to reign over us." And the king assented in this declaration of his nobles.

There was a time when all grandees of Spain wore their hats in the presence of the king, but in time the idea of caste began to prevail, even among the grandees, with the result that they were eventually divided into three classes, and these classes were distinguished by the hat etiquette.

The first class entered the royal presence covered; the second class entered uncovered, and after an advance of a few steps, put on their hats, unbidden by the king, and the third class also entered uncovered, but did not "cover" until requested to do so by the king. Then, according to the etiquette, "all were equal."

There have been grandees who were not Spaniards—notably the Duke of Wellington, upon whom the cortes conferred the honor in recognition of his services to the state.—Exchange.

HEROINE AND HERO CAUGHT

Hastings, N. Y., June 17.—Frederick DeBelleville, a film actor, and Miss Betty Marshall, leading woman for a local film company, nearly lost their lives by the premature explosion of 200 pounds of dynamite under an old scow from which they were about to jump into the Hudson river as the hero and heroine in final pictures of a movie called "The Trade Secret."

The derelict scow, the Thomas Wallace, was blown to smithereens. Mr. DeBelleville and Miss Marshall were hurled into the water unconscious and a launch containing three camera men was overturned, the movie cameras with their precious films sinking to the bottom of the river. Miss Marshall was burned on her arms and body and DeBelleville sustained a bad cut on the top of his head. After receiving treatment both were able to go to their homes.

BRITISH STEAMSHIP SUBMARINE VICTIM

London, June 17.—The British steamship Strathnairn, bound from Cardiff to Archangel with coal, was torpedoed off the Scilly Islands, and twenty-two members of the crew including the captain, were drowned. One English member of the crew and ten Chinamen were saved and these have been landed at Milford Haven.

CREATORE'S BAND ON THE PROGRAM

Announcement of the program for the Washington Court House Chautauqua, which has just been made, is of especial interest to our people. This great educational and entertainment event will be held July 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, and the seven day program will be made noteworthy by the appearance of Giuseppe Creatore and his world famous band of forty-two musicians for two great concerts, these coming upon the fourth day of the Chautauqua.

The musical features of the week's program are especially attractive, embracing, in addition to Creatore's band, such celebrated organizations as Ralph Dunbar's Singing Bell ringers, the L. A. C. Woman's Orchestra, the Oxford Operatic Company, the Riheldaffer-Skibinsky Company, the Cartwright Male Quartet and the Brewer Musical entertainers assisted by Chester R. Scott, noted cornetist. It is conceded that few Chautauqua programs ever offered have surpassed, in their musical features, the local offering. Creatore's band is the most expensive organization ever offered by any Chautauqua, and the remaining musical numbers are big attractions, offering a wide variety of splendid music.

The educational and entertainment features will be equally strong. Senator Wm. S. Kenyon, of Iowa, is the "big gun" of the week, and associated with him in furnishing a most satisfying program of lectures, readings, etc., are men of such repute as Bishop Wm. M. Bell, Dr. Arthur Walwyn Evans, Welsh wit and humorist; Atherton Brownell, who appears in a special peace program in readings from his great drama "The Unseen Empire;" Dr. Frederick Vining Fisher, Dr. G. Whitefield Ray, Prof. Albert H. Johnstone, John B. Boardman, the Community Development expert, Noah Behlharz, celebrated characterist, and others.

The program booklets, which are now in the possession of the local guarantors of the Chautauqua, and ready for distribution, are souvenirs well worth having. They are beautifully illustrated, the cover page showing Creatore's great band as that organization appeared in its recent history making engagement at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Convenient in size, artistic in arrangement and printed in the very highest art known in printing circles, they will delight all who receive them. They are for free distribution, and your copy can be had of the local committee.

A display advertisement, published elsewhere in these columns today, gives added information concerning this great seven day carnival of education, inspiration and entertainment.

SUSPECTED YEGG PROVES AN ALIBI

Walter Martell, one of the men suspected of aiding in the robbery of the New Holland postoffice, has obtained his freedom by his remarkable memory, having proven an alibi. Two of the men arrested with Martell were sentenced to Moundsville federal prison for eight years, it will be recalled.

Martell proved that he was in Groveport on February 10th, in Waverly at the time of the robbery and that he beat his way from Waverly to Greenfield. He remembered how many cars were dropped off at Greenfield from the train upon which he was riding, and an investigation disclosed the truth of his claim.

PLANS FOR FISH AND GAME PICNIC

Forty-five motor cars have been secured for the outing of the Fayette Fish and Game Protective Association, which takes place at Waterloo next Thursday.

The cars will provide transportation for all members, and the start, from the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 a. m. will be featured by a motor parade.

At Waterloo, Mr. H. B. Dahl has kindly placed The Ridge at the disposal of the society, and the Program Committee has arranged a series of contests that will include Bait Casting, Swimming, Trap Shooting, Rifle Shooting and an old fashioned Horse Shoe tournament. For each event, prizes have been donated, entry will be free, and all contests will have a large number of entries.

Real fishing will be provided for, a Bait Committee having been named that will furnish a plentiful supply of live minnows, with a trophy to be given for the largest fish caught during the day.

"According to Hoyle."
The first author of books dealing with card games was Edmund Hoyle, who died in London, aged ninety-seven, in 1770. His treatises on whist, piquet and other games are still authorities, and "According to Hoyle" has become a proverb. Hoyle has been called the inventor of whist, which is an error, although he was the first to popularize the game and place it on a scientific and exact footing. Hoyle was a lawyer by profession, but he derived a good income from his books. For his treatise on whist he received $5,000, and the work was so popular that it ran through five editions the first year, besides many pirated editions. Hoyle gave instructions in whist to parties of ladies and gentlemen, charging each $5 per lesson. For some years he held an official court position in Ireland which paid him $3,000 per year. Hoyle's book on whist was first published in 1743.

Babies In Hot Weather.
A baby must be kept as cool as possible in summer, because overheating is a direct cause of summer diarrhea. Even breast fed babies find it hard to resist the weakening effects of excessive heat. Records show that thousands of babies, most of whom are bottle fed, die every year in July and August, because of the direct or indirect effects of the heat. Next in importance to right food in summer are measures for keeping the baby cool and comfortable; frequent baths, light clothing and the selection of the coolest available place for him to play and sleep.

The Wire a Big Gun Takes.
Experts announce that around the vital tubes of the newest naval gun, such as England's largest warship, the Queen Elizabeth, is equipped with, are wound no less than 192 miles of flattened steel wire.

CHANCE FOR INVENTORS.

Some Simple Devices For Which There Seems to Be a Demand.
Here are a few simple things so badly needed that the Scientific American calls upon inventors to get busy and invent them:
A ticket holder for holding the price and lot tickets to a coat or other garment, which ticket can be easily applied and removed and another inserted, all without mutilation or other injury to the garment.
The lower berth in a sleeping car is stuffy with the windows closed, and if you open the window the cold air is directly on you. It is thought that the riding public would appreciate some deflector or diffusing construction which could be applied to the open window over the usual short hinged screen and permit the entry of fresh air, at the same time preventing it from blowing directly on the passenger in the berth.
Some means for effectively preventing the mirror effect in show windows, the effect we all notice in passing such a window in which our image is reflected and the contents of the window are shut out of view. Naturally, the shopkeeper who works for a display in his window resents it not being seen.
President Wilson, who is an ardent golfer and also dependent on his eyeglasses, is reported as saying that he cannot play the game in the rain because of the accumulation of moisture on his glasses, which leads to the suggestion that specially devised glasses or some treatment of the ordinary lens may solve the problem.

Mexican Military Coin.

Every Mexican commandant drives dull care away by manufacturing his own currency, thus enabling his army to live honestly and to pay as it goes. To be sure, arguments sometimes have to be used to circulate a new brand of paper and ink, but an argument a la Mauser is indeed unanswerable. A recent happy thought in high financial circles is to issue so called money about the size of a subway ticket, but which has a time limit. This has the effect of keeping the pesos hustling to get rid of it before its value disappears, which is a day or two before the time at which it would naturally wear out.—Engineering and Mining Journal.

Celluloid Watch Crystals.

At the outbreak of the war American watchmakers were much concerned regarding the watch crystal situation, the German source of supply being shut off and previous attempts to make them in this country having failed. Watch crystals of glass are now being made here successfully, and an American inventor has helped the matter along by devising a celluloid watch crystal, which has the beveled edge and general appearance of a glass crystal and possesses the additional advantage of being unbreakable.—Every Week.

The Warring Nations.

There are now eleven nations at war, with the prospect of two or three more being added. Ten languages are involved—English, French, Russian, Italian, German, Hungarian, Turkish, Japanese, Polish and Walloon—to say nothing of several sublanguages.—New York American.

Strawberry Byproducts.

Each year thousands of bushels of strawberries go to waste because of low prices or some adverse condition. The department of agriculture has therefore prepared bulletins on the manufacture of berry byproducts, which should prove a help in saving this waste.

The Wire a Big Gun Takes.

Experts announce that around the vital tubes of the newest naval gun, such as England's largest warship, the Queen Elizabeth, is equipped with, are wound no less than 192 miles of flattened steel wire.

The essentials in the summer care of babies are:
Proper food, given only at regular intervals.
A clean body.
Fresh air day and night.
Very little clothing.
Cool places to play and sleep in.
Do not give the baby medicine of any sort unless it is ordered by the doctor.
Do not fail to give the baby a drink of cool water several times a day in hot weather. Boil the water first, then cool it and offer it to the baby in a cup, glass or nursing bottle. Babies and young children sometimes suffer cruelly for lack of drinking water.

BURR'S SELF CONTROL.

An Incident That Proved His Perfect Command of His Feelings.

Aaron Burr was by nature and training a man of extraordinary self control. He allowed no circumstances to throw him off his balance.

An anecdote told by Rufus Choate to Richard H. Dana, recorded in Mr. Dana's "Diary," illustrates the cautiousness which aided Burr so greatly in controlling himself.

Several years after the death of Alexander Hamilton, killed by Burr in a duel, Burr visited Boston, and Mr. Devereux of Salem paid him some attentions. The visitor was taken to the Boston Athenaeum, where, while the two men were walking through the gallery of sculpture, Mr. Devereux happened to catch sight of a bust of Hamilton.

The thought flashed across Mr. Devereux's mind that Burr might not care to be confronted with the sight of the features of the man he had slain. But no. Burr was undisturbed. He also espied the bust, and although Mr. Devereux had instinctively turned away, he walked up to it and said in a loud tone.

"Ah, here is Hamilton!"
Then, passing his fingers along certain lines of the face, he added, "There was the poetry!"
Hamilton's contemporaries gave him credit for possessing a poetic mind.

QUEER LEGAL FICTION.

It Makes Stepney, In London, the Parish of Every British Seaman.

Every sailor, from the admiral to the newest joined seaman, on board British warships is regarded as belonging to the parish of Stepney, in London. It doesn't matter in the slightest where the ship is, the sailors who man it all come from the same parish—Stepney.

This queer legal fiction dates back to the time of Charles II. In those days every workman had to live in the parish where he was born, and he could not leave it without finding two responsible sureties to vouch for his honesty.

This, of course, became rather puzzling in the case of people born at sea, for they had no parish. To get over the difficulty the authorities stated that all born at sea would be regarded as being born in the parish of Stepney.

How to Treat a Rifle Wound.

In the case of a wound from a rifle bullet don't go probing for the bullet, but remove from the surface of the wound all shreds of clothing and other matter which the bullet may have carried into the flesh. This must be removed very thoroughly, and a sterilized knife or scissors should be used freely to open the wound and get it clean. When this is done treat the wound with your iodine or bichloride solution. Then dress it with gauze and bandage.

In the case of wounds from small shot the wound should be washed with a solution of alum, and then pieces of gauze or clean cloth wrung out of hot water should be applied every couple of hours.—Outing.

TEUTONS LAUNCH ATTACK ALONG 682 MILE FRONT

SUCCESS STILL CROWNS EFFORTS

Russians Abandoning Positions and Retreating Before Greatest Offensive Movement Yet Launched By Teutonic Allies—Italians Sweep Forward—British Warship Aground in Dardanelles and British Submarine Sinks Three Turk Transports With Troops—Another War Loan of $1,750,000,000 to Be Asked in House of Commons

By Associated Press.

Berlin, June 17.—The Russians have abandoned their positions to the north of Sieniawa, on the San river in Galicia, and have retreated toward Tarnograd, in Russian-Poland, according to the official statement given out today by the German army headquarters' staff.

Berlin, June 17.—It was announced semi-officially in Berlin today that the Austro-German forces along a 682-mile front in Poland, Galicia and Bukowina had begun a general attack in a battle expected to be decisive, and that big results were expected.

London, June 17.—Official Italian advices claim advantages all along the front, particularly in the Adige valley which leads to Trent. On the Isonzo front, where centers the battle for possession of Trieste, Italian successes also are claimed.

London, June 17.—The latest news from the eastern front does not indicate that anything has occurred thus far to upset the plans of General von Mackensen, who has fixed July 1 for the arrival of an Austro-German army in Lemberg, the Galician capital.

General von Meckensen's army, driving due eastward across the San to the north of Przemyśl, is already half way from the river to Lemberg.

On the Dniester the Teutonic forces have suffered several severe repulses but their check thus far has not been of sufficient moment to offset Russian losses.

If General von Mackensen keeps to his schedule it is possible the Russians will be compelled to withdraw from the Dniester. They may also be forced to retreat on the wide front in central Poland.

The campaign against the Russians, on which the Germans are now concentrating their offensive efforts, is developing another phase in a violent attack in Russian-Poland. At the same time the Germans are pushing back Russians in the Baltic provinces and, with the help of the Austrians, in Galicia.

A Petrograd official statement contains the admission that the Germans have occupied additional villages near Shavli in the Baltic region, but states that the Russians regained lost ground near Przemyśl. It is in the vicinity of Przemyśl, which lies to the north of Warsaw, that the Germans apparently are making their most determined effort on the Polish front, although the fortress of Ossowetz is again being attacked.

London, June 17.—The Star has received a telegram from Athens saying that news was received there that a British submarine torpedoed and sunk three Turkish transports loaded with troops, in the Dardanelles at Nagara.

The greater part of the troops and crews is said to have perished.

London, June 17.—Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons this afternoon that another loan bill would be introduced Monday.

It has been suggested that the amount of the loan would be $1,750,000,000.

London, June 17.—Turkish and British reports today both claim successes at the Dardanelles. Constantinople also says that a British warship of the Agamemnon type is ashore near the entrance to the Dardanelles, and is partly submerged.

ger said he helped to launch a life-boat full of women and children unassisted by the crew, but the boat leaked so badly that it sank a few minutes after touching the water.

D. A. Thomas, known as the British coal king, who was on the Lusitania, was of the opinion that some members of the crew did not obey the captain's orders to attend first to the rescue of women and children, but attempted to save themselves first.

The evidence showed Staff Captain countermanded the orders Captain Turner had given previously to get the women and children into the boats. A number of witnesses testified that they got into the boats and had to leave them later on orders from Captain Anderson, who was heard shouting: "The ship is safe."

AWFUL CRIME
IN CINCINNATI

By Associated Press.

Cincinnati, June 17.—After reporting to the police here that here eleven-year-old daughter Elizabeth had been missing since noon yesterday, Mrs. Mary Nolte today found the child's body lying in the rear yard of her home in Central Avenue. The body was without clothing and wrapped in a sheet.

Police say the child had been assaulted and murdered. The mother said a negro had given the child candy the morning she left home.

The girl's throat had been cut and the body hacked.

A negro was arrested and police believe he knows something about the murder. Police say he was arrested several days ago for disturbing little girls.

RACING SPEED
RECORD BROKEN

Chicago, June 17.—The world's record for speed has been smashed at the new two mile board track of Speedway Park. Dario Resta, famous Italian driver in qualifying for the big 500-mile race to be run June 26th, drove the course in one minute and five seconds, an average of 116.1 miles an hour.

This wonderful performance surpasses the best time ever made for the distance by cars having 300 cubic inches of piston displacement. As practically all races on this continent are limited to cars of the 300 inch class, this record establishes the mark at which all drivers must shoot in the future.

MEYER-GERHARD STORY
BRANDED A FALSEHOOD

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 17.—At the State Department today a telegram was received from the German Embassy at Cedarhurst, N. Y., signed by the charge d'affaires, making a general denial of the public charges that Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, for whom the State Department obtained a safe conduct back to Germany from the allies, was, in reality, Dr. Alfred Meyer, a high German official secretly in the United States buying supplies. State Department officials will decide later whether to make the telegram public.

Nothing from Count Bernstorff himself has yet been received. A report from New York said the ambassador had communicated with the State Department about the published stories.

President Wilson, it was said at the White House today, had no official knowledge of the reports concerning Dr. Meyer-Gerhard. It was also said that the White House had no information on other reports that letters sent to the allies' embassies here and to the War Department regarding invention of war implements and ammunitions had been tampered with.

None of the allies' embassies have made any complaint to the postoffice department. In allied quarters it was said, the Russian Embassy had suffered most interference, and in six specific instances has found evidence that its mail had been opened on a United States railway mail car. Mail to practically all the embassies from abroad has borne evidence of inspection, but there is no way of determining if it happened in the United States or in Europe.

BRYAN PRAISES WILSON FOR GREAT EXAMPLE SET

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 17.—Asserting that preparedness provokes rather than prevents war and that the upheaval in Europe was the result of the false philosophy that "Might makes Right," former Secretary Bryan today, in the second of his series of three statements on "The Causeless War," submits an argument against military preparations by the United States and praises the course of President Wilson in the international emergency.

"If any nation is without excuse for entering into a mad rivalry with the belligerent nations in preparation for war, it is the United States," says Mr. Bryan.

"We are protected on either side by thousands of miles of ocean and this protection is worth more to us than any number of battleships.

"We have additional protection in the fact known to everyone that we have the men with whom to form an army of defense if we are ever attacked, and it is known also that we would have the money, too.

"Happy for our nation that we have in the White House at this time a president who believes in setting the old world a good example, instead of following the bad example which it sets in the matter."

STATE DEPARTMENT SENDS TROOPS
TO GUAYMAS TO QUELL UPRISING

Many Americans in Danger of Annihilation at Hands of Yaqui Indians, and Cruiser Colorado Is Rushing to Mexico Coast to Furnish Relief—Yaquis Declare War on Germany, Mexico and U. S., 'Tis Said.

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 17.—Admiral Howard, commanding the Pacific fleet, was under orders today to proceed immediately to Guaymas, on the west coast of Mexico, with 300 bluejackets and 300 marines and to dispatch this force 20 miles inland, if necessary, to protect Americans menaced by the Yaqui Indians. The Indians have threatened to annihilate all foreigners.

Orders to Admiral Howard to proceed to Guaymas were sent by the Navy Department following a conference between Navy and State Department officials. State Department advices said that the Indians had declared war on Germany, Mexico and the United States.

San Diego, Cal., June 17.—With 300 marines aboard, the flagship Colorado, Admiral Howard commanding, sailed from San Diego at 9:35 a. m. today for the Lower California coast.

Protection of Americans in the Yaqui valley, is the object of the dispatch of troops from this point. Recent advices state that American colonists at Esperanza, some 300 miles south of the border, after standing off one attack by the Indians, are hemmed in and threatened.

The Yaquis have declared their independence and are fighting to recover land taken from them under the administration of Porfirio Diaz.

PLANS OF THE PEACE LEAGUE ARE OUTLINED

Philadelphia, June 17.—William H. Taft, former president, outlined the plan for the proposed League of Peace which is being discussed in Independence hall today. Mr. Taft was firmly of the opinion that the League of Peace could be formed which would enable nations to avoid war by furnishing a practical means of settling international quarrels or "suspending them until the blinding heat of passion had cooled."

At the conference proposals will be considered for a League of Peace and steps will be taken with a view to obtaining the support of public opinion and of governments. The national provisional committee, which called the conference, includes well known publicists, educators, peace advocates, editors and economists. Mr. Taft was assigned the honor of delivering the keynote speech.

Among those who are participating in the conference's deliberations are President Lowell of Harvard university, Oscar S. Straus, a member of the Hague court; Hamilton Holt of New York and former Judge George Gray of Delaware, also a member of the Hague court.

Mr. Taft said in calling the meeting that all present represented no one but themselves. He continued:

"We are not here to suggest a means of bringing the war to an end; much as that is to be desired and secure as we would be willing to do to secure peace, that is not within the project of the present meeting. We hope and pray for peace, and our hopes of its coming in the near future is sufficient to make us think that the present is a good time to discuss and formulate a series of proposals to which the assent of a number of the great powers could be secured."

"We think a League of Peace could be formed which would enable nations to avoid war by furnishing a practical means of settling international quarrels, or suspending them until the blinding heat of passion had cooled. When the world conference is held our country will have its official representatives to speak for us."

"In no war has the direct interest that neutrals have in preventing a war between neighbors been so clearly made known. This interest of neutrals has been so forced upon them that it would require only a slight development and growth in the law of international relations to develop that interest into a right to be consulted before such a war among neighbors can be begun."

"This step we hope to have taken by the formation of a peace league of the great powers, whose primary and fundamental principle shall be that no war can take place between any two members of the league until they have resorted to the machinery that the league proposes to furnish to settle the controversy likely to lead to war. If any member refuses to use this machinery, and attacks another member of the league in breach of his league obligations, all members of the league agree to defend the members attacked by force."

OHIO BRIEFS

Stroke Sees Less Efficiency.
Columbus, June 17.—In the opinion of S. E. Strode, member of the state agriculture commission and chief of the dairy and food division, the public has been shorn of much of its protection from adulterated foods by the work of the last legislature. The assembly cut the appropriation for the dairy and food department for analyzing and detecting adulterated foods from $8,500 to $3,500. It did, however, appropriate $5,000 for this purpose to be used under the direction of the board of health. Though the total appropriation exceeds former allowances to the dairy and food department by $500, Mr. Strode contends that the division of the work can have only one effect, less efficiency.

Suggests Department of Peace.
Columbus, June 17.—Dr. Charles Edward Jefferson of the Broadway tabernacle, New York, who delivered the annual address to the graduates at O. S. U., advocates a department of peace. Why not, he asks, establish a new department of our government "whose special and exclusive business shall be the cultivating and maintaining of international good will? If we have a secretary of war, why not have a secretary of peace? Why should not the skill and art of diplomacy be utilized in keeping on good terms with our neighbors, instead of being reserved for patching up quarrels?"

Drowned in Flood.
Portsmouth, O., June 17.—The sudden rush of high water in the Scioto river claimed its first victim when Homer Stewart, twenty-eight, was swept from the bridge he was guarding into the swirling waters below. His body was immediately carried down stream and was not recovered.

Kent, O., June 17.—Seven carloads of strikebreakers for Chicago were turned back at Sterling and rushed through Kent without stopping, engines being changed a mile west of town. The men terrorized eating-house attendants and wrecked property at several points.

UNCLE SAM GETS READY

Washington, June 17.—That the United States is determined to resort to firm measures to protect American life in Mexico is indicated in orders forwarded to Admiral Howard, who is in command of the Pacific fleet, to proceed to Tobari bay, near Guaymas, on the west coast, with 300 marines and 300 bluejackets, and to dispatch this force twenty miles inland, if necessary, to protect an American colony that is menaced by the Yaqui Indians. The American colonists whom the government is determined to protect are said to be in great danger. Admiral Howard, who has started for Tobari bay, is empowered to send the marines and bluejackets to the point of the trouble without further consultation with the officials.

MOVE ON LEMBERG

London, June 17.—Except for the check administered temporarily to the forces of General Von Linsingen at the Dniester, the Austro-Germans appear to be advancing slowly to the eastward toward Lemberg, in Galicia. They are fighting every foot of the way, however, and the Russians are contesting stubbornly. Dispatches from Petrograd indicate that the new Austro-German forces have joined General Von Mackensen's army, which is moving eastward in a long battle front. These forces are at present engaged in battle around Sienawa Jaroslav and along the right bank of the San. The Russians held the advance for three days, but finally were compelled to retire on the right bank of the Lubazowka and the Wysznia, a tributary of the San.

CARRANZA WILL CARRY ON THE SCRAP

Washington, June 17.—Overtures for peace in Mexico, made by the Villa-Zapata faction, have been declined for the present by General Carranza. It is stated that three such offers have gone unanswered.

The latest offer was transmitted through the medium of the United States without comment. A few days ago the convention assembled in Mexico City, over which Francisco Lagos Chazaro presided, formally presented to the Brazilian minister, as the representative of the American government, for transmission to General Carranza through diplomatic channels, a proposal for a thirty-day armistice, during which arrangements could be made for establishing a provisional government. It was suggested that both sides should maintain a military status quo and that the armistice be extended from time to time while the parleys continued.

The plan included the holding of a popular election, to be supervised by the factions in control of various sections of the country. The proposal was communicated to General Carranza by American Consul Silliman.

On inquiry as to whether there would be any reply, General Carranza is understood merely to have said there would be none.

The communication from the convention government signed by Chazaro was similar to one sent to General Carranza several weeks ago, signed by Roque Gonzales Garza, then president of the convention government. That, too, was unanswered.

Since last Monday Carranza has had a personal telegram from General Villa urging a conference of their representatives for a discussion of peace terms. It is known here, too, that a delegation from the convention at Mexico City met General Pablo Gonzales, the Carranza commander, near the capital, and asked for the arrangement of the armistice, and that he demanded in reply the unconditional surrender of the city.

General Carranza's intention for the present is understood to be to press his military campaign vigorously in the hope that on taking Mexico City and driving Villa forces northward, he will be in a position to merit the recognition of the United States.

CUNARD OFFICER IS PUT THROUGH QUIZ

London, June 17.—Alfred A. Booth, chairman of the board of the Cunard Steamship company, was the chief witness called in the government's inquiry into the sinking of the Lusitania. When he was asked by Attorney General Sir Edward Carson why the Lusitania was economizing by using only 19 of her 25 boilers when she was torpedoed, he replied that so far as submarines are concerned there is no difference between 21 knots and 21 knots. On cross-examination by an attorney representing some of the survivors, he was asked if the company had taken steps to prevent the Lusitania from entering the war zone on schedule. He replied that Captain Turner had been given entire discretion. It was brought out that the Lusitania did not have coal enough on board to make the full trip under full speed, but there was coal enough to have worked all the boilers within the danger zone.

LEAVES ALL TO SUFFRAGE

New York, June 17.—The appraisal of the personal estate of Mrs. Frank Leslie, known as the Baroness de Bayus, which has been filed in the surrogate's court, indicates that the bequest to woman suffrage, which was left to Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, will be greater than had been supposed. At the time the will was filed it was estimated that the residuary estate left in the care of Mrs. Catt would amount to about $1,000,000, but the appraisal indicates that it will be at least $1,300,000, and probably more.

Automobile Prices Tumbling

The price of automobiles continues to drop. Almost every week records another substantial drop in the price of "machines" well and favorably known to the motoring public.

And there is a reason, too.

The automobile has passed the experimental state and has passed the "fad" state too. It has become a fixture as a vehicle to be used for business and pleasure and has, by establishing a place for itself in the business and social life of the world, become an article of every day use and fixed demand. There is no doubt that the automobile has come to stay. Motoring is no longer a "craze" but a part of the life of the people, hence automobiles have become a necessity as many other of man's inventions, at first regarded as luxuries, have become.

It is but a repetition of the history of the telephone, the bicycle and hundreds of other inventions which we "cannot do without" now.

Then too, there is no longer any need for the expenditure of enormous sums of money for agencies' commissions and expert salesmen.

The price of many standard machines has fallen off remarkably this season and the end is not yet.

Relieved of the tremendous cost of developing a market the necessity for such a wide margin between cost of production and selling price, disappears and the multitude of automobile manufacturers cannot be expected to keep the selling price higher than that which will furnish to the builder a fair margin of profit.

The N. C. R. Prosecution

The refusal of the United States Supreme Court to assume jurisdiction to review the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals nullifying the conviction of the National Cash Register officials, meets with popular approval in this section of the country.

The officials of the Cash Register Company were indicted, prosecuted and convicted on a charge of violating the anti-trust statutes of the United States. The prosecution claimed that the accused men conducted the business of the company in a manner which was unfair to competitors and therefore in restraint of trade. Following the conviction of the men charged, the principal defendant, president and controlling genius of the company, and the real directing force of the business methods of the company, rendered splendid and spectacular service to the flood sufferers in nineteen thirteen.

As a result of his unselfish devotion to the cause of the people in the stricken districts a tremendous sentiment in favor of Mr. Patterson grew up. A monster petition asking for his pardon and the pardon of those who were indicted with him, was circulated and almost unanimously signed.

Mr. Patterson and his associates refused to accept pardon and demanded that they be legally declared innocent.

For that reason the findings of the Court of Appeals that they had not been legally convicted was received with joy throughout the Miami Valley and the refusal of the Supreme Court to review that decision was, is possible, the recipient of even more cordial welcome.

As to the effect of the decision, however, generally speaking, on the anti-trust law expert lawyers express grave misgivings.

No Referendum Elections

For arriving at a determination not to launch a bunch of referendum elections this fall the state organization of the Democratic party is entitled to the thanks of the people of Ohio.

While that conclusion may have been reached as a result of a desire to promote their own interests and the good of the party whose trustees they are, for the time at least, the committeemen and party leaders who foregathered at Columbus last week, have rendered a very appreciable service to the voters of the state who are burdened now almost past the point of endurance by elections and petitions.

With an army of petition circulators tramping around over each section of the state seeking signers to a proposal to submit this, that, and the other, law to a popular vote added to that other army of local candidates and the confusion incident to the now certain battle on state wide prohibition, the annoyance which would result to the people of the state may better be left to the imagination than to be actually experienced.

Then too, the present state administration is entitled to have its laws tested by actual trial. If the laws are good the administration should receive its full measure of credit and if unwise it should bear all the blame without the softening effect which an alibi of interference with their operation would provide.

The developments of the last week on this very referendum proposal indicates that the right which the people took unto themselves when the constitution was last amended is not likely to be resorted to as frequently as some of the "I and R" opponents claimed it would.

Which, by the way, now that we have the "I and R" in Ohio is another fortunate condition.

Poetry For Today

WHATEVER IS—IS BEST.

I know as my life grows older,
And mine eyes have clearer sight
That under each rank wrong, somewhere

There lies the root of Right;
That each sorrow has a purpose,
By the sorrowing oft unguessed,
But as sure as the sun brings morning,

Whatever is—is best.

I know that each sinful action,
As sure as the night brings shade,
Is somewhere, sometime punished,
Tho' the hour be long delayed.

I know that the soul is aided
Sometimes by the heart's unrest,
And to grow means often to suffer—
But whatever is—is best.

I know there are no errors,
In the great Eternal plan,
And all things work together
For the final good of man.
And I know as my soul speeds onward,

In its grand Eternal quest,
I shall say as I look back earthward,
Whatever is—is best.

THE GERRYMANDER.

Gilbert Stuart's Cartoon Made the Political Trick Notorious.

Gilbert Stuart, who is best remembered for his portraits of Washington, was also a cartoonist, and it was he, according to James Melvin Lee, in Cartoons Magazine, who designed the famous Gerry-mander cartoon.

In 1811, writes Mr. Lee, the struggle between the Democrats and the Federalists for the control of Massachusetts was extremely bitter. The Democrats had elected Elbridge Gerry governor and had carried both houses of the legislature. To retain this supremacy they remapped the senatorial districts and divided the power of their political adversaries by paying no attention to county boundaries. In Essex county the relation of the district to the town was most absurd, and a map of the county thus laid out hung in the office of the Massachusetts Sentinel.

One day as Stuart gazed at the map he remarked that the towns as they had been assembled looked like some monstrous animal. A few touches of his pencil added the wings and claws, and he christened the creature a salamander. At the suggestion of Editor Russell, the name was changed to Gerry-mander. The cartoon thereafter frequently appeared in a "broadside," while the term became one of reproach.

It looks now as though that world court would need a disappearing forum, flanked by the biggest guns on earth.

She liked the work, and she was always certain of her pay,
For her employer was a sport who paid her by the day.
Said he, "You're an apprentice, but I'll let you have a mount,
And you can ride Star Shooter, he's a colt of some account."

He's entered in a race next week, and he'll win sure as fate,
But you must cut out beer and train so you can make the weight."
The great day came, and when the nags paraded to the post
The girl had made the weight, but she was feeling like a ghost.

The barrier went up and then Star Shooter took the lead.
He ran like he was scared to death and showed a world of speed.
He ran so fast that he was soon in front by a half mile,
And when they hit the stretch the girl looked back with a glad smile.

The great crowd yelled: "Come on, you Star! Come on! The rest are jokes!"
And then the girl remembered that she must face all them folks.
She felt round for her powder rag and powdered up her nose,
And gazed into her mirror as she sat in sweet repose.

And, as she primped, the other horses galloped up and passed,
And, when she'd finished dolling up, poor Star was running last.
Star's owner said: "You're fired, you dub. To win you didn't try!"
And though big lumps were in her throat, the brave girl did reply:

Chorus:
"I may be riding horses, but I'm human just the same!
And just because your old nag lost, why should I take the blame?"

And no guy ain't no gent, though he wears diamonds on his clothes,
Who'd fire a working girl because she powdered up her nose."

Luke McLuke Says

The only man who knows how to manage a woman is the lad who has never tried it.

Mother gets so tired of the same old furniture in the same old rooms and the same old dishes in the same old kitchen that she takes a few hours off every now and then and rearranges her keepsakes in the old trunk in the attic, the same trunk she took on her bridal tour. And she will dust off the piece of her wedding cake that is wrapped up in a piece of her bridal veil.

And she will kiss the little pair of baby shoes wrapped up in the tiny baby cap. And she will get out the tinctures of father taken the day they were married. And she will have a good hawl and kiss the tincture. Then she will go downstairs, and when father comes home to supper she will give him the devil because he didn't wipe his shoes on the mat.

When he first gets her life is all honey, but later on life is all lives. A tiny mouth often hides an awful lot of jaw.

Whisky grows better as it grows older. But men are not that way. Many a brave man who doesn't mind facing the music will do a lot of hollering when he is asked to listen to it.

Most women have two dispositions, one for home use and one for company use. And this is also true of most men. Consider the thermometer. It often takes a drop too much at night, but that doesn't prevent it getting up early the next morning.

Every now and then you will see a woman who gives you the impression that if she smiled she would crack her complexion.

Anyway, Adam never had to get up out of bed and empty the pan under the ice box.

During the honeymoon she believes that the earth sags down every time he takes a step, but later on she believes that it would take about fourteen muffs like him to outweigh a feather.

TO PACIFIC COAST

Will Leave Columbus Aug. 1st. Returning Aug. 30th

The tour will be made in the Company's Special Train and will be personally conducted, so that the members of the party will not be bothered with looking after railroad tickets, baggage, or any of the thousand and one little things that annoy the individual traveler.

Many excursions will be made this year to the San Diego and San Francisco Expositions, but a trip to the Pacific Coast is not complete without a visit to the great Fruit Country of the Pacific Northwest.—THE APPLE EMPIRE OF THE WORLD!

Orchards bearing at the rate of $500 per acre annually will be visited in the state of Washington and opportunity will be given members of this party who might wish to purchase a young orchard.

First Straw Hats.

The first hat of straw to be worn in the United States appeared in 1800. Straw had been used before to thatch houses, but not the heads of civilized citizens. It made comfortable bedding for cattle and was stuffed in sacks to increase the softness of the pine boards used by men and women to sleep on. But straw for the head? Never! It might do for the tropical savages, but not for the inhabitants of the great zone in which the progressive nations lived.

Previous to 1800 men had worn felt and cloth hats. And it was not till the time of Elizabeth that men began to wear hats at all, in distinction from caps and bonnets. The blossoming of literature in the Elizabethan period was contemporary with the building of brims on head coverings and their transmutation into hats.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Where is Your Grain ?

Suppose by hard work you had got together a bushel of very fine, very rare, very costly grain. You wouldn't put it in an old stove—you wouldn't hide it in some out-of-the-way place. Rats, mice or birds might destroy it insects make it worthless—fire destroy it—servants steal it. You would keep that costly grain in a safe place so that you could plant it and get a bounteous harvest. Why not use the same care with your hard-earned dollars. Keep them at the Fayette County Bank. FAIRGROUNDS ARE THRONGED DURING THE MATINEE RACES

Racing Is Keen and Crowds Enjoy Themselves Thoroughly Y. M. C. A.'s Elaborate Preparations Meet With Crowning Success.

With a clear, pleasant day, and a big warm sun beating down on the fairground track the elements agreeably welcomed the opening of the matinee racing season in Washington C. H. Thursday.

Early in the morning the people began to arrive from various parts of the county and from neighboring cities, all eager to see the big races which had been so widely and well advertised. By noon the city was crowded with visitors.

The fact that the event was being held for the sole benefit of the Y. M. C. A. and at the same time under the direction of prominent local horsemen, drew many.

The Y. M. C. A. Boosters, who have been making automobile trips to neighboring cities, spreading the glad tidings and extending invitations, for the last week or more, were up and on the job early Thursday getting everything in readiness for the big event. The grounds and the refreshment booths, all under the control of the Y. M. C. A. were put in attractive order for the afternoon performances.

A huge auto truck, carrying four or five civil war veterans comprising a drum corps, paraded through the streets Thursday morning, a large banner on the side of the vehicle announcing the races.

As early as 11:30 a. m. the Y. M. C. A. string of busses and automobiles took their stations on Court street and began hauling the spectators to the ground. The autos and busses were donated to the Y. M. C. A. for the day and the proceeds of fare was a clear profit to the institution.

People began pouring into the grounds early and the big amphitheatre was well filled long before the racing commenced. A flutter of excitement swept over the throng as the favorites began appearing on the track, before the races officially began, for work out.

It was after 1 o'clock when the gong rang for the official start and the races were on.

Over 1,000 people are in attendance. The races are closely contested and the events well filled. There remains on the program the 2:20 trot, the green pace and the green trot.

Officers are: Judges, Dr. L. P. Howell and Chas. Mark; Starter, Frank Woodland; Clerk of Course, W. B. Rogers; Timers, Morgan Baker and Wm. Worthington; Marshal, Rankin Paul.

2:20 TROT.

The 2:20 trot was won handily in two heats by Hydric, owned by J. R. Trimble, of Freedom, Pa., and driven by Wm. Mallow. Time 2:13 and 2:16. Forest McKinney, owned and driven by Oscar Valley, won two seconds, and Bonnie Wreath, owned by Gilbert Perrill and driven by Carl Mallow, finished third in both heats.

the woman when she stepped off the train. He missed her but returned to this city at eleven o'clock. He was then stationed near the Mann residence on Broadway, and it was nearly three o'clock when the automobile arrived. The two women, a traveling salesman and a chauffeur were in the machine.

After taking a look at the party Deputy Judy said: "I've a warrant in my pocket, and I guess I'll just take all of you up to the jail and allow Sheriff Jones to pick out the ones he wants." A few minutes later Florence Mann was behind the bars. Belle Mann Greene was arrested later in the morning.

When arraigned before Judge Allen Florence Mann admitted her guilt on a statutory charge, and Belle Mann Greene entered a plea of guilty to failure to provide for her minor child, whereupon they were sentenced as above stated. Both were very much taken aback when they were quietly informed that they could spend a few months in the works.

Florence Mann is said to have admitted that she had been with the man who left his wife and family for her, saying that they had remained in Covington, Ky., for some time, and then went to Indianapolis where their supply of ready cash gave out and she was forced to pawn a diamond ring to get back home. In passing sentence upon her Judge Allen said: "And that fellow who has been with you—for every day he remains a fugitive, his sentence will be increased when he is apprehended."

George Greene, husband of Belle Mann Greene is now serving a workhouse sentence for having contributed to the delinquency of his young brother-in-law.

SMITH TRIES AGAIN TO MAKE GET-AWAY

Ray Smith, fined $100 and costs in the mayor's court Wednesday after pleading guilty to a charge of resisting arrest, made a second attempt to escape from Officer Baughn while being taken from the court room back to the jail.

The officer was escorting Smith to the county jail without the aid of handcuffs. At the corner of the court house nearest the jail Smith broke and ran. He got no further than the alley, however, when he was brought to a halt by a command from the officer, backed up by a leveled, business-like Colt revolver.

Smith will probably be taken to the workhouse Friday to begin serving out his fine.

RESIGNATIONS TENDERED BY MEMBERS OF COUNTY BOARD

The first members of the Fayette County Board of Education complying with the recent request of the Presidents of rural and village school boards, which asked for the resignations of the entire County Board of Education, are W. W. Wilson and David Long.

The above mentioned members submitted resignations, Thursday, based upon the condition that the resignations become effective at the same time the resignations of the other members take effect. Their resignations were addressed to Supt. Frank M. Allen, clerk of the County Board of Education, and read:

Dear Sir:—

At the meeting of presidents of the rural and village boards of education held on Saturday June 12th, a resolution was adopted, expressing the unanimous sentiment of that body, that the members of the Board of Education of this County School District should resign their offices as such members.

The considerations which prompted the action stated are generally known. As at present constituted the County Board is justly regarded as prejudicial to the schools within their jurisdiction, and an obstacle to the cause of education. We are ready to step aside in obedience to the resolution of the body which elected us, provided the other members of the County Board forthwith present their resignations.

We therefore hereby resign the office of members of the Board of Education of Fayette County School District, to take effect when resignations of all the other members of the Board named take effect.

Yours respectfully,
W. W. WILSON.

WELL KNOWN CHARACTERS GO TO WORKS

Florence Mann, for whose arrest an affidavit was filed several weeks ago, and her sister, Belle Mann Greene, wife of George Greene who is in the Xenia workhouse, faced Judge Allen Thursday morning and were fined $200 and the costs and given 100 and 90 days, respectively, in the Xenia workhouse. In all probability they will be escorted to the workhouse Friday morning.

Sheriff Jones received a tip, Wednesday evening, that Florence Mann, who was alleged to have left this county a few weeks ago in company with a well known married man of this city, whom the woman says she left in Indianapolis a day or two ago, would arrive in the city during the night, and that she intended leaving the night B. & O. train at Wilmington and motoring to this city.

BUILDING FOUR ROOM ADDITION

The work of building a four room addition to the East End school building, Columbus avenue and Willard street, is now under way. The improvement is expected to cost approximately $5,000, and afford accommodations for 160 additional pupils.

The work of excavating for the basement and building the basement walls is now under way, and within a short time Contractor Swartz will have men engaged in laying the brick. Contractor Williams has the other work.

At the present time the East End building contains four rooms, and there has been an ever increasing demand for more room at the building, with the result that the Board of Education, acting under an emergency measure, and with approval of the State School Commissioner, recently made arrangements for the building of the additional four rooms. The four rooms are to be ready for occupancy when school opens next September.

WELCOME, JUDGES!

The following jingle is from the Cleveland Press and was inspired by the presence in that city this week of Judge Carpenter, of this city, and Judge Newby, of Hillsboro, who are assisting in "clearing the slate" in the Cuyahoga Court of Common Pleas:

Welcome Judges.

Judge Cyrus Newby, Hillsboro, is coming, so we hear, To aid our local judges Our calendars to clear.

Judge Carpenter is coming too, To act as Newby's mate; To bring our suits to trial And to get them off the slate.

So, weary Mr. Litigant, Your day in court is nigh, And Mr. Wait and Mr. Halt And Mr. Alibi.

And Mr. Absent Witness, And Reasonable Doubt, And ancient Mr. We Object, With motion to strike out.

So, welcome to our city, You jurists from afar; Your coming is applauded By the laymen and the bar.

LIFE IN A SUBMARINE.

How the Crew Gets Air Fit to Breathe While Under Water.

The commander of a submarine observes what is going on at the surface by means of the periscope, but when that is submerged he sees nothing. And if he moves his vessel while using the periscope he leaves a white flake on the water, which exposes him to the enemy.

However, the periscope is sometimes of a length—about seventeen feet—to give partial safety, as when only the tip shows the boat is unlikely to be damaged by an enemy's fire, although if the periscope chances to be shot away it might cause a fatal leak. Also the submarines can be rammed.

The diving rudders are mounted in pairs, one on either side, fore and aft, with an ordinary vertical rudder at the stern for lateral steering. Each motor set drives a reversible propeller. The accommodation for the navigating officers is in the conning tower, while the quarters of the crew of ten men are in the bow, as is also the galley.

Special arrangements have been made to secure an adequate ventilation of the interiors of the boats. During surface operations the air is drawn in from outside. When traveling submerged the heated atmosphere of the engine and the exhaled air of the crew are drawn off through ventilators which pass it through various filtering, oxygenating and cooling devices, after which it is returned to the interior and is fit to be breathed again.—Exchange.

TELEPATHY.

That, Like Other Mental Operations, Cannot Be Explained.

"Marie Corelli has attributed telepathy to electricity. Is there any scientific truth in the matter, or is it but a theory?" writes a correspondent, and we answer:

Entirely theory. None knows how telepathy originates because nothing is known of the nature of mind—that is, no law of the mind has been discovered. Everything is theory until the law is discovered and then proved beyond all possibility of doubt. Every possibility of doubt or error of any kind, however minute, must be annihilated before anything is published as a law in any scientific book.

The mass of obscure things, such as telepathy, mind reading, action of mind on mind (as in hypnotism), action of mind on matter without physical contact, influence, suggestion, personal magnetism, automatic writing, drawing, painting, reading closed books, causing sound to be heard, conversations in space between invisible personalities, warnings, sending of messages from dying persons to their friends, rescues from danger by mind influences, transmission of drawings and pictures to minds of others by mind processes—all these and perhaps as many as 100 more most remarkable mental things are now occurring constantly in some part of the world.—Edgar Lucien Larkin in New York American.

Education.

Education is not merely the writing of facts on the mind as one writes on a blank slate. It resembles rather the placing of fresh color on canvas on which earlier colors are not dry. The new colors mix with the old. So the living mind mixes new information with what is already in it, and judges the new in the light of the old.

Teeth of the Ancients.

The silence of the classics certainly seems to indicate that the Greeks and Romans suffered very little from their teeth. Words for toothache and for tooth extracting instruments can, indeed, be found in the Greek and Latin dictionaries, but the authors quoted for them are generally late and always uninteresting. We can hardly believe that if toothache had been common in Athens Aristophanes would have made no jokes about it. But a classical scholar may pretty safely be defied to cite a single Greek or Latin passage about it. Even Lucretius, when he gets on the subject of teeth in a passage where a reference to toothache might be expected, merely refers to the jar given to the teeth by very cold water or by biting a stone in one's bread.—London Chronicle.

Reciprocity.

"Dear Harold," with sadness she wrote to her former fiancé, "as you are probably aware, I am to be married to Mr. Anthony the coming month. I shall therefore appreciate it if you will burn all the little notes I sent you, assuring you of reciprocity in regard to those you sent me."

She immediately received this reply: "Dear Dorothy—I shall certainly comply with your request at once. And, incidentally, as your new fiancé holds a few notes of mine I shall deem it a great favor if you will induce him to burn them with the rest."—National Food Magazine.

Tried Her Patience.

"A little padding here and a little more there," she directed.

"Yes'm."

"You don't seem to know much about padding a gown."

"Maybe you had better try an upholsterer," ventured the harassed dressmaker.—London Telegraph.

DELBERT C. HAYS

In Social Circles

The following announcement from the Wilmington Journal will be read with the utmost interest by not only the parishioners, but also by the large number of friends made during his residence in this city:

A party of unusual interest was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Owens, on East Locust street last evening, in honor of Miss Edith Hildebrand, whose engagement to Rev. Eugene Prosser was announced.

There were present fifteen or sixteen of the young lady's close friends to whom the announcement, though somewhat of a surprise, was no less pleasant news. The house was prettily decorated and Mrs. Owens and her assistants in the entertainment made it an enjoyable evening for the gathering.

Miss Hildebrand, who has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Orbaugh, since childhood, is a lovable little girl. She completed the course in the High school in 1912, and was a member of the graduating class at the College last week. She is a good student and has won the admiration and love of her friends both in and out of school. Rev. Prosser is getting a treasurer, in the opinion of those who know the dainty Miss Hildebrand.

Mr. Prosser is the pastor of the Episcopal Church here and at Washington C. H., giving a part of his time at both places. He came to Wilmington a year or more ago and soon won friends, not only in his congregation, but among the people of the town generally. He is a scholarly young man, an able speaker and unquestionably has a bright future before him.

The date of the wedding is announced for July 5. Congratulations will be profuse.

A very enjoyable meeting of the Presbyterian Missionary Society was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ben Davis. Assisting her as hostess were Mesdames Minnert, Hadley, Stitt, A. C. Henkle, Jess Blackmore, Frank Mayer, Bryant, Chas. Gage, Wm. Sprenger, T. H. Williams, Kinzer, Gray, Chas. McLean. The topics for this month were "Alaska" and "The Home Base."

After the opening exercises and reports of the different officers, Miss Rose McLean, as leader, called for current events which were given alive with interest by all the ladies present. Mrs. Regina Staubus presented a graphic picture of Alaska's future, showing the riches and business interests of many kinds that will surely be developed there and the millions that will be worked out. Her outlook was full of interest in both mercantile and missionary lines.

After music, Mrs. G. W. Blakely solved the problem, "Medical Missions. Why?" by showing the wonderful accomplishments all over the world by medical missionaries. Her points were fine and startling, bringing realization of what is being done to help the humanity of the world. The information given in such papers is well worth while and of great satisfaction to the hearers.

A social hour and refreshments were enjoyed after the program.

A simple but very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Snider on East Second Street Wednesday morning when their daughter Miss Sylvia, became the wife of Mr. James Thornton, of Washington C. H. The ceremony which was performed by Rev. H. J. Jewett of Trinity M. E. church, the bride's pastor, was witnessed by only members of the immediate families of the young couple. The plans for the coming nuptials had been kept secret from all but the close relatives and news of the wedding will come as a surprise to the friends of the young people.

The Snider home had been prettily decorated for the event with a profusion of ferns, pink snap dragons and Dorothy Perkins roses. Large flowers placed on tall pedestals and an artistic arrangement of white lilies and the lovely pink roses formed a pretty background for the nuptial event. The bride and bridegroom assisted the bride's father and mother in receiving the guests and mingled with them until the hour for the ceremony when with their attendants, Miss Fern Sunkle and Ray Griffith of Washington C. H., who served as maid of honor and best man, they took their places before the officiating minister who read the impressive ring service of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The bride who is a very pretty and very attractive young woman, wore a beautiful and girlish gown of white voile and net and carried a large bouquet of white roses. Miss Sunkle wore a dainty gown of pink and white figured voile with a wide pink sash and carried an armful of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. The table was artistically decorated in pink and white and a crystal basket filled with Dorothy Perkins and white roses formed the centerpiece. The colors, pink and white were carried out in the four course menu served.

Mr. and Mrs. Thornton left Wednesday morning for Cleveland and from there they will take a lake trip and will visit Buffalo, Niagara Falls and other points of interest. Mrs. Thornton's traveling costume was a becoming tailored suit of battleship gray silk poplin with hat to match. Upon their return the young couple will make their home temporarily with the bride's parents in this city and Mr. Thornton will be associated with Mr. Snider in the conduct of the bakery of which Mr. Snider is the proprietor.

The bride who is a very popular young woman graduated from the Washington C. H. High school in the class of 1914. Both young people have many friends in this city and in Washington C. H., who extend sincere congratulations and good wishes.

Mrs. George Sunkle of Washington C. H., was the only guest present at the wedding outside of the family circle.—Xenia Republican.

A number of Washington friends received announcement cards, sent out by Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Snider Thursday.

Mrs. Ellis Ramsay gave a beautiful party for her daughter Lucy, Wednesday afternoon at the pretty Ramsay bungalow on Washington avenue.

Fifty-seven children trooped gayly over the lawn and through the flower decked rooms in merry play between the hours of two and five. The special feature of entertainment was a bean contest, in which Doris Garinger won the prize, a box of chocolates.

The children formed a pretty picture, the young hostess, in dainty white frock and pink sash, leading in all the fun and her cunning little sister Priscilla coming in for a full share of attention.

Mrs. Ramsay served an unusually elaborate two course luncheon, the children seated in a big circle around the living room.

Assisting Mrs. Ramsay in caring for the young guests were Mesdames F. M. Clemmens, W. M. Mitchener, W. R. Dalbey, Misses Mary Ramsey and Virginia Sites.

Sugar Grove W. C. T. U. and the Golden Rule Circle gave a miscellaneous shower and Kensington for Miss Ivah Haines, a bride of next week, Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bruce Pine, on the Rockbridge road.

It was a lovely affair, with June roses in profusion all through the rooms and charming appointments. Receiving with Mrs. Pine were the other officers of the Sugar Grove Union, Mrs. Clark Post, Mrs. Ed. Darlington and Mrs. John Boyer.

Misses Edith Moore and Faye Fisher brought in a beautiful basket of roses and presented it to the bride-elect. Under the lid was found a collection of handsome gifts, and tied with the white ribbon badge of the W. C. T. U.

At a cost of $50,000 this "the intelligent whale" was built in 1864 in New Jersey. It is 22.8 feet long, has a depth of nine feet and had a speed of four knots. The crew consisted of thirteen. It was built in the New York navy yard and was condemned as useless.

CORNS LIFT OUT

Dr. Hunt's New Penetration Method
Loosens Them Root and All.
FULL SIZE BOX 10c.

No corn ever went so easily, quickly or surely as by Dr. Hunt's new way—the penetration principle of permanently curing corns. Dr. Hunt has devoted a life of study to this one subject. The final result is this entirely different method—a method by which corns GO forever in two short days.

Dr. Hunt's New Corn Cure comes in a simple plaster form. Six plasters in a box. Cut plaster size of corn and apply it. Doesn't "bulk" like clumsy pads. Contains no caustic to smart or cause blood-poisoning. No paring necessary. Wear any shoes. Ease comes the moment you apply this new remedy. You walk in comfort. You forget your feet. In two days corn lifts out.

Nothing like Dr. Hunt's New Corn Cure has been known before. It is an entirely new principle. Millions of packages have already been sold. Cures any corn. They must go.

And the price is only ten cents a box. Guaranteed or money back. That's very little to pay for foot comfort. Sold by druggists and shoe dealers everywhere. Cure your corns once and for all, this new way. If any difficulty in securing, send 10 cents in stamps for a box, to American Chemical Company, Sidney, Ohio.

DUEL NOW
UNDER WAY

Rome, June 17.—The stand of the Austrians at Goritz is developing the first general engagement of the Italian campaign. The Italian troops, having established themselves on the eastern bank of the Isonzo river at three important points, have found that the Austrians are solidly entrenched on a long line of hills, stretching from Podgora, west of Goritz, to Monte Fortino, in the Isonzo valley, south of the town.

According to an official report from General Cadorna, chief of the Italian general staff, the Austrian defenses are concrete entrenchments, often in several lines, protected by a network of mines and concealed batteries. Against these positions the Italians had to content themselves so far with artillery engagements at long range, meanwhile attempting to outflank the Austrians to the north and attacking rear, the mountains forming a natural defense for Goritz. General Cadorna announces that the artillery duel "is proceeding satisfactorily."

North of Tolmino, where the Italo-Austrian frontier bends to the south in the upper reaches of the Isonzo, there have been fierce infantry engagements. An official statement issued here says that in the Monte Nero region the Alpine troops were victorious in a terrific mountain fight, taking 300 prisoners.

On the Carnic front, the activity of the Austrians makes it seem that they are concentrating large numbers of troops in the region of Monte Groce, with the intention of attempting an invasion of Italy at that point to offset the incursion of the Italians on the Friuli front and compel the Italians to rush reinforcements to the army holding the Carnic passes, and so diminish the strength of the army attacking Goritz.

Between the Val d'Inferno and Malborghetto, on a plateau 7,000 feet above the level of the sea, desperate fighting is going on every day.

The Austrians are offering an effective resistance to the Italian advance here, the Italian objective being the railroad from the interior to Franzensfeste, in Tyrol. It has been learned in the course of artillery engagements to the east of Monfalcone that the Austrians have fortified practically every step of the road from Monfalcone to Trieste.

The Italian fleet which has been concentrated since the opening of hostilities at Taranto, near the entrance to the Adriatic, put to sea under sealed order.

RHEIMS IS UNDER FIRE

Paris, June 17. — Fresh gains by French troops in the sector north of Arras, near Lorette, and in the baby have launched an attack against the Germans and captured a line of trenches. At the other extremity of the battle line, in the Vosges, French forces have progressed along both banks of the river Fecht, occupying Braun Kopf, taking 340 prisoners. The French have not been able to maintain the gains made west of La Bassee. The city of Rheims was again subjected to a bombardment by the Germans. The war office announces that about 100 bombs in all were dropped on the city and that several fell on the cathedral. Nothing is said regarding the damage. Several civilians were killed at Nancy by bombs dropped by a German aviator.

16 KILLED
40 INJURED

London, June 17.—The following official statement regarding the Zeppelin air raid was issued here: "Inquiries show that the casualties in connection with the visit of a Zeppelin to the northeast coast amount to 16 killed and 40 injured."

"It is now possible to state more exactly the casualties resulting from an airship raid on another portion of the northeast coast on the night of June 6. The number of deaths was 24, with 40 injured. The principal fires were in drapery establishments, a lumber yard and a terrace of small houses."

BIG TREE MAIL STATION.
Renowned as the Oldest Postoffice
Building in America.

The pioneers of the northwest often made use of huge trees hollowed out by fire or decay. Some of these "tree houses" they occupied as temporary residences. Others they used as shelters for stock or as primitive barns. Only one, however, ever had the distinction of being a United States postoffice. That stump is in Chatham county, in the state of Washington.

In early days the settlers were widely scattered, and it was a long journey over rough trails to the postoffice. Carriers could do no more than leave mail at some central point. The big cedar stump, twelve feet in diameter and reduced to a shell by fire, was a base from which a number of trails radiated.

By common consent it became this postoffice for a wide region. The settlers put on a roof of cedar shakes and nailed boxes around its interior, which they regarded as marked with their names. There was a larger box for the outgoing mail. There were no locks, but the mails were never tampered with.

This primitive postoffice was used for more than a year. It has been carefully preserved and is annually visited by hundreds of interested sightseers. The stump is believed to be over 2,000 years old, which clearly establishes its right to the distinction of being the oldest postoffice building in America.—Youth's Companion.

Historical Parallels.
"Oh, pop."
"Well, get rid of it—get rid of it."
"What does this history I have been reading mean by a 'coop detat'?"
"That, my son, in politics or statecraft, is the same thing as a pinch hitter delivering the goods in the last half of the ninth inning of a baseball game, with runners on second and third and the score 2 to 1 in favor of the other team."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

CREATORE'S BAND ON THE PROGRAM

Announcement of the program for the Washington Court House Chautauqua, which has just been made, is of especial interest to our people. This great educational and entertainment event will be held July 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, and the seven day program will be made noteworthy by the appearance of Giuseppe Creatore and his world famous band of forty-two musicians for two great concerts, these coming upon the fourth day of the Chautauqua.

The musical features of the week's program are especially attractive, embracing, in addition to Creatore's band, such celebrated organizations as Ralph Dunbar's Singing Bell Ringers, the L. A. C. Woman's Orchestra, the Oxford Operatic Company, the Riheldaffer-Skibinsky Company, the Cartwright Male Quartet and the Brewer Musical entertainers assisted by Chester R. Scott, noted cornetist. It is conceded that few Chautauqua programs ever offered have surpassed, in their musical features, the local offering. Creatore's band is the most expensive organization ever offered by any Chautauqua, and the remaining musical numbers are big attractions, offering a wide variety of splendid music.

The educational and entertainment features will be equally strong. Senator Wm. S. Kenyon, of Iowa, is the "big gun" of the week, and associated with him in furnishing a most satisfying program of lectures, readings, etc., are men of such repute as Bishop Wm. M. Bell, Dr. Arthur Walwyn Evans, Welsh wit and humorist; Atherton Brownell, who appears in a special peace program in readings from his great drama "The Unseen Empire;" Dr. Frederick Vining Fisher, Dr. G. Whitefield Ray, Prof. Albert H. Johnstone, John B. Boardman, the Community Development expert, Noah Bellharz, celebrated characterist, and others.

The program booklets, which are now in the possession of the local guarantors of the Chautauqua, and ready for distribution, are souvenirs well worth having. They are beautifully illustrated, the cover page showing Creatore's great band as that organization appeared in its recent history making engagement at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Convenient in size, artistic in arrangement and printed in the very highest art known in printing circles, they will delight all who receive them. They are for free distribution, and your copy can be had of the local committee.

A display advertisement, published elsewhere in these columns today, gives added information concerning this great seven day carnival of education, inspiration and entertainment.

SUSPECTED YEGG PROVES AN ALIBI

Walter Martell, one of the men suspected of aiding in the robbery of the New Holland postoffice, has obtained his freedom by his remarkable memory, having proven an alibi. Two of the men arrested with Martell were sentenced to Moundsville federal prison for eight years, it will be recalled.

Martell proved that he was in Groveport on February 10th, in Waverly at the time of the robbery and that he beat his way from Waverly to Greenfield. He remembered how many cars were dropped off at Greenfield from the train upon which he was riding, and an investigation disclosed the truth of his claim.

The cars will provide transportation for all members, and the start, from the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 a. m. will be featured by a motor parade.

At Waterloo, Mr. H. B. Dahl has kindly placed The Ridge at the disposal of the society, and the Program Committee has arranged a series of contests that will include Bait Casting, Swimming, Trap Shooting, Rifle Shooting and an old fashioned Horse Shoe tournament. For each event, prizes have been donated, entry will be free, and all contests will have a large number of entries.

Real fishing will be provided for, a Bait Committee having been named that will furnish a plentiful supply of live minnows, with a trophy to be given for the largest fish caught during the day.

"According to Hoyle."

The first author of books dealing with card games was Edmund Hoyle, who died in London, aged ninety-seven, in 1770. His treatises on whist, piquet and other games are still authorities, and "According to Hoyle" has become a proverb. Hoyle has been called the inventor of whist, which is an error, although he was the first to popularize the game and place it on a scientific and exact footing. Hoyle was a lawyer by profession, but he derived a good income from his books. For his treatise on whist he received $5,000, and the work was so popular that it ran through five editions the first year, besides many pirated editions. Hoyle gave instructions in whist to parties of ladies and gentlemen, charging each $5 per lesson. For some years he held an official court position in Ireland which paid him $3,000 per year. Hoyle's book on whist was first published in 1743.

CHANCE FOR INVENTORS.

Some Simple Devices For Which There Seems to Be a Demand.

Here are a few simple things so badly needed that the Scientific American calls upon inventors to get busy and invent them:

A ticket holder for holding the price and lot tickets to a coat or other garment, which ticket can be easily applied and removed and another inserted, all without mutilation or other injury to the garment.

The lower berth in a sleeping car is stuffy with the windows closed, and if you open the window the cold air is directly on you. It is thought that the riding public would appreciate some deflector or diffusing construction which could be applied to the open window over the usual short hinged screen and permit the entry of fresh air, at the same time preventing it from blowing directly on the passenger in the berth.

Some means for effectively preventing the mirror effect in show windows, the effect we all notice in passing such a window in which our image is reflected and the contents of the window are shut out of view. Naturally, the shopkeeper who works for a display in his window resents it not being seen.

President Wilson, who is an ardent golfer and also dependent on his eyeglasses, is reported as saying that he cannot play the game in the rain because of the accumulation of moisture on his glasses, which leads to the suggestion that specially devised glasses or some treatment of the ordinary lens may solve the problem.

Mexican Military Coin.

Every Mexican commandant drives dull care away by manufacturing his own currency, thus enabling his army to live honestly and to pay as it goes. To be sure, arguments sometimes have to be used to circulate a new brand of paper and ink, but an argument a la Mauser is indeed unanswerable. A recent happy thought in high financial circles is to issue so called money about the size of a subway ticket, but which has a time limit. This has the effect of keeping the pesos hustling to get rid of it before its value disappears, which is a day or two before the time at which it would naturally wear out.—Engineering and Mining Journal.

Celluloid Watch Crystals.

At the outbreak of the war American watchmakers were much concerned regarding the watch crystal situation, the German source of supply being shut off and previous attempts to make them in this country having failed. Watch crystals of glass are now being made here successfully, and an American inventor has helped the matter along by devising a celluloid watch crystal, which has the beveled edge and general appearance of a glass crystal and possesses the additional advantage of being unbreakable.—Every Week.

The Warring Nations.

There are now eleven nations at war, with the prospect of two or three more being added. Ten languages are involved—English, French, Russian, Italian, German, Hungarian, Turkish, Japanese, Polish and Wallonian—to say nothing of several sublanguages.—New York American.

Strawberry Byproducts.

Each year thousands of bushels of strawberries go to waste because of low prices or some adverse condition. The department of agriculture has therefore prepared bulletins on the manufacture of berry byproducts, which should prove a help in saving this waste.

The Wire a Big Gun Takes.

Experts announce that around the vital tubes of the newest naval gun, such as England's largest warship, the Queen Elizabeth, is equipped with, are wound no less than 192 miles of flattened steel wire.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Babies in Hot Weather.

A baby must be kept as cool as possible in summer, because overheating is a direct cause of summer diarrhea. Even breast fed babies find it hard to resist the weakening effects of excessive heat. Records show that thousands of babies, most of whom are bottle fed, die every year in July and August, because of the direct or indirect effects of the heat. Next in importance to right food in summer are measures for keeping the baby cool and comfortable; frequent baths, light clothing and the selection of the coolest available place for him to play and sleep.

The essentials in the summer care of babies are:
Proper food, given only at regular intervals.

A clean body.
Fresh air day and night.
Very little clothing.

Cool places to play and sleep in.
Do not give the baby medicine of any sort unless it is ordered by the doctor.

Do not fail to give the baby a drink of cool water several times a day in hot weather. Boil the water first, then cool it and offer it to the baby in a cup, glass or nursing bottle. Babies and young children sometimes suffer cruelly for lack of drinking water.

BURR'S SELF CONTROL.

An Incident That Proved His Perfect Command of His Feelings.

Arnon Burr was by nature and training a man of extraordinary self control. He allowed no circumstances to throw him off his balance.

An anecdote told by Rufus Choate to Richard H. Dana, recorded in Mr. Dana's "Diary," illustrates the callousness which aided Burr so greatly in controlling himself.

Several years after the death of Alexander Hamilton, killed by Burr in a duel, Burr visited Boston, and Mr. Devereux of Salem paid him some attentions. The visitor was taken to the Boston Athenaeum, where, while the two men were walking through the gallery of sculpture, Mr. Devereux happened to catch sight of a bust of Hamilton.

The thought flashed across Mr. Devereux's mind that Burr might not be confronted with the sight of the features of the man he had slain. But no. Burr was undisturbed. He also espied the bust, and, although Mr. Devereux had instinctively turned away, he walked up to it and said in a loud tone.

"Ah, here is Hamilton!"

Then, passing his fingers along certain lines of the face, he added, "There was the poetry!"

Hamilton's contemporaries gave him credit for possessing a poetic mind.

QUEER LEGAL FICTION.

It Makes Stepney, in London, the Parish of Every British Seaman.

Every sailor, from the admiral to the newest joined seaman, on board British warships is regarded as belonging to the parish of Stepney, in London. It doesn't matter in the slightest where the ship is, the sailors who man it all come from the same parish—Stepney.

This queer legal fiction dates back to the time of Charles II. In those days every workman had to live in the parish where he was born, and he could not leave it without finding two responsible sureties to vouch for his honesty.

This, of course, became rather puzzling in the case of people born at sea, for they had no parish. To get over the difficulty the authorities stated that all born at sea would be regarded as being born in the parish of Stepney.

though why they should choose that parish and no other is lost in the dust of official records.

To this day the bishop of Stepney is godfather of all children born at sea, while all marriages solemnized on the ocean are recorded as though they had taken place in Stepney.—London Answers.

A Remarkable Dinner Service.

The remarkable dinner service made by Josiah Wedgwood for the Russian empress, Catherine II., in 1774 consists of 952 pieces, and on each piece is painted a different view. The body is of a pale brimstone color, and the views are painted in a rich mulberry purple. As the service was intended to be used at the palace of La Grenonniere (meaning marshy place full of frogs), each piece also bears a green frog within a shield on the rim. The views represent British ruined castles, abbeys, parks, bridges, towers, etc. Several pieces are decorated with views of Hampstead, and there are custard cups with views of Richmond and sauce boats with the scenery of Windsor park. In many cases the views are the only pictorial records left of the old buildings. Altogether there are 1,282 views painted on the 952 pieces.

How to Treat a Rifle Wound.

In the case of a wound from a rifle bullet don't go probing for the bullet, but remove from the surface of the wound all shreds of clothing and other matter which the bullet may have carried into the flesh. This must be removed very thoroughly, and a sterilized knife or scissors should be used freely to open the wound and get it clean. When this is done treat the wound with your iodine or bichloride solution. Then dress it with gauze and bandage.

In the case of wounds from small shot the wound should be washed with a solution of alum, and then pieces of gauze or clean cloth wrung out of hot water should be applied every couple of hours.—Outing.
